Second Art People Party to Blossom in Center of Town Saturday

Take a piece of string when you go to the Art People Party Saturday. You'll need it to tie your way into the "Entanglement" that's going to be a star attraction at the Party.

For the second annual Art People Party, Witherspoon Street between Nassau and Hulfish will be closed to cars and trucks from noon Saturday until — well, people are saving 5 p.m., but maybe it will go on longer than that. If it rains, come Sunday.

Noon is the starting gun, with a bicycle parade already warming up in the pit. Bicycles, baby or doll carriages, tricycles, unicycles — it's all open stock for the big parade, and of course, the more decoration the better. (Hear "Chappaqua?" and the Princeton University Band? You need a good rock beat for a bicycle parade.)

Because Witherspoon is closed off, Spring Street automatically will be, too, since it's one-way from Witherspoon. Parking lots in the interior of the Witherspoon-Spring-Tulane area will be free and festive, instead of metered and businesslike.

Nassau Street itself will join the Party periodically, as red traffic signals stop cars long enough to allow pedestrians to cross Nassau from "free" Witherspoon to the Green in front of Nassau Hall.

That's where the "Entertainment" will be, on Nassau Green. Basically, it's a big, free-form net.

If you want to tie one on, bring rope, an old tennis net, a halvard from an old boat, the clothesline you saved because you knew it would come in handy.

The ultimate form and size of the "Entanglement" depends on how many people bring how much rope and do how much braiding and twisting and macrame-ing.

There on Nassau Green, the First Baptist Church will sell fried chicken and sweet-potato pie and you can munch while you stroll the green and pass judgment on the paintings hanging from the snow-fencing.

Artists who aspire to have paintings hung on the fence, may sketch a live model who will be posing on the Green.

The Princeton Folk-dance Group will dance on the Green, and at 3 p.m., the Street Theatre company of young dancers and singers will perform to a "May Art Party" theme. Performers will be Jill Berkelhammer, Adrienne Brockway, Corine Colman, Kate Fox, Linda Gilpin, Liz Hilst, Linda Kandell, Lydia Mitchell, Rip Pelaton, Cathy Oates, Elsie Beaus, John Wible and Livia Woog.

Oh, in and around Witherspoon Street will be the heart of the Party. In the parking lot that extends inland from Community Wine and Liquor, there will be a mini-folk-festival by the Princeton Folk Music Society, and to the soft and lively strains of folk songs, craftsmen will demonstrate their skills.

Rug-hooking, the caning and rushing of chairs, collage, leather-work, patch work, wall-painting . . . Buy a Flight Two balloon, and watch the artists while your balloon catches the breeze.

On Witherspoon itself, restaurants have the Borough's permission to set tables and chairs outside, if they wish (the Board of Health says it's all right.) But a cold beer or a friendly glass of wine — no, unless a special one-day permit travels fast enough through the state's bureaucracy to arrive by Saturday.

Lemonade on Witherspoon may be sipped through the courtesy of Christ congregational Church. The Princeton Ballet Society will hold a Bake Sale and so will the high school's Scholarship Fund committee. Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church will sell sandwiches, and a commercial vendor promises hot-dogs and sodas.

Dancers from the Aparri Ballet will be on Witherspoon Street with an excerpt from "Snow White" and a new dance called "Joy," done to the popular rock version of Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Dancers will be Alice Dunn, Holly Graves, Grace Haronian, Anne Kilbourne, Nannette Pallrand,

New Township Road to Be Completed by Fall

The half-million-dollar "J" Road, angling up through the woods between Terhune and Mt. Lucas was approved by Township Committee Monday night and municipal engineer Joseph Hodak said he expects construction to start in mid-June with completion in early November.

The road will lead to Princeton Community Housing's middle-income apartment project, and will also open the Office Research zone to new business.

The Friends of the Princeton Environment represented by James Sayen, expressed concern about run-off. Mr. Sayen added that the Friends would like to see hike-path construction simultaneously with building of the road.

Mr. Hodak assured him that the Township is concerned about drainage, too. (The area has a sharply dropping slope, and rock almost impervious to water).

Drainage OK. He explained that a retention basin to be built at the foot of the ridge in land now owned by the Thonet Corporation will be used for run-off, and is large enough to accommodate what experts call a "15-year storm." (Last August's flood was a 100-year storm).

When Ian Walker, of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association, warned of future development along "J," Mr. Hodak said he hoped the Planning Board will require retention basins all along the way.

East Windsor. In a brief comment later in the evening, Mr. Walker repeated the alarm he has previously expressed about growth in East Windsor Township. From 12,000 population in 1970, he said, the township will hit 18,500 by the end of this year. Proper sewerage can't be constructed for five years, he said.

He told the Committee he has asked the state to ban further construction in East Windsor because of Millstone River pollution. It would eventually affect Lake Carnegie, he reminded Committee.

Princeton-Kingston Road residents who do not want sewers petitioned Committee in opposition to Princeton-Kingston Road residents who do want sewers. The latter petition was presented last month. The matter will be laid before the Board of Health.

Liquor Fees Up. Liquor License fees will be raised under an ordinance introduced Monday. Public hearing will be May 15.

Consumption licenses would go from $860 a year to $1,030; distribution licenses from $430 to $515 and club licenses would remain the same, at $150. The increases fall within the 20 percent allowed by state law.

More Training. "Bomb scene officers' training," a course for police, will be financed in part by the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency (SLEPA) if Committee's application for money is approved. The course costs $708.46. It would not cost the Township anything because the municipal share would be in the form of salaries and other expenses already budgeted.

Chief Frederick Porter explained that in the course, officers would learn how to protect themselves and the public in the event of a bomb scare, and would learn techniques for handling frightened people, particularly children in the event of a school problem.

Public Service has agreed to remove offending street lights in the Brookstone area, Committee learned.

Ross C. Wilcox, 161 Ridgeview Circle, was named to the Shade Tree Commission.

To Reconsider Seminary. Committee sent back to the Planning Board the Seminary's appeal from Board requirements in the Seminary's Mt. Lucas Road faculty housing. The Seminary claims the Board had no legal right to require dedication of land to widen Mt. Lucas or to require installation of pavement, curbs, storm-sewers and walks. The institution also protests bond-posting requirements.

Arguments about legality had never been presented to the Planning Board, Committee pointed out. The Seminary was also asked to explore more fully with the Board the ways various improvements would serve the needs of the subdivision.

"These properties get community services like fire protection and police; they generate traffic," he reminded the board. "The contributions they make in lieu of taxes are unrealistic. The University contributes $15,000 a year, and there isn't any law that makes them do even that."

Mr. Hendry asked the Planning Board to "strive more for equilibrium, and for sharing," and he cited the weight of the board's land-use policies.

"I agree with the tax-exempt laws—I don't ask you to strike out at tax-exempt institutions saying 'You should pay!' I'm only saying the state should help us out."

This Is Princeton

ASKS TAX HELP

Councilman Has State Hopes. The state's new tax laws, whatever and whenever, should be drawn to help towns like Princeton Borough that are saddled with a heavy load of tax-exempt institutions.

Robert Hendry, Borough Councilman, brought some unexpected life into a routine Regional Planning Board meeting Tuesday night when he gave a preview outline of the case he will present next Tuesday before his fellow Councilmen and, he hopes, an audience of taxpayers.

Borough properties are worth $240 million, Mr. Hendry told the board, but $146 million is tax-exempt. Of this, $6 million is public schools, $6 million is Borough, state or federal property ("Morven," the post office, and so on.) $14 million is charitable, like the YM-YWCA, and a fat $117 million is institutions of higher education—the University Seminary, Choir College.

He also mentioned the Borough's public housing. The Housing Authority pays 10% of the rents in lieu of taxes. "This is a $4,000 annual payment for properties that would be paying $70,000 in taxes, if they were standard rateables," he estimated.

This most exquisite of all brick Georgian Colonials is the paragon of Princeton lakeside homes. The living room, library, and master bedroom suite all have their own fireplace, while almost every room in the house enjoys a spectacular view of the lake. From the patio off the dining room you can watch the regatta all the way to Kingston. The eat-in kitchen has an especially romantic view, while all four bedrooms must be a dream to sleep in. Music on the Move. Singing — the Princeton Squares, the
"All Good Children" and the "Foot Notes" — will move a round the craft and hobby booths, stopping to watch a candle maker before beginning the next song.

See those giant footprints on the pavement? They will lead right down Witherspoon to the parking-lot door of the Princeton Public Library. Here, from 12:30 to 1, you can hear the "Broken Consort" (chiefly recorder-players) with a program based on Win-the-Pooh.

Puppets will take over at the library at 1:30 with a story half-hour and at 2:30, the library will scare everybody witless with half an hour of "Scary Stories" (but it will be bright afternoon sunshine, so don't be alarmed.)

OFF TO THE PARTY! Tricycles will again be in line for the noon-time parade that starts the Art People Party on Saturday, just as they were last year when this head-starter maneuvered his wheels into the stream.
All ages are welcome: you don't have to be tricycle-size to "Come to the Party!"

Between 11 and 4, the library will hold an art-puppet workshop under Edith Kogan, and for people who missed the first time or simply want a second helping, the 1:30 puppets will be back for a 3:30 show.

Varied Crafts. Strolling along Nassau toward Palmer Square, the Art People Partygoers can stave off starvation
at the Community House Bake
Sale, then proceed to Palmer
Square to watch face making, the operation of a pottery-wheel, tie-dyeing, sand-painting.

"Forest Friends" puppet productions will be on Palmer Square all afternoon with original shows, and the music

you hear on the Square will come from the Witherspooners and the Opposite Sextet. They are due to perform at 1:30 and 2:30, respectively.

Elsewhere . . . Connie Bracci will be in front of Gallery 100 demonstrating the Japanese way of pottery. At 3 Spring Street, the Princeton Art Association will have a day-long exhibit of work by PAA's students.

"From Tree to Tool," is the Historical Society's way of describing their exhibit of tools and wooden objects. Woodworking demonstrations will be going on, and costumed hostesses will remind you of an earlier and more gracious time.

The Historical Society's building is "Bainbridge House" next to the Garden Theatre.

And More . . . Spaghetti and fried chicken is on the menu at the First Baptist Church, a brief walk down Wiggins. Service will go on all day, between noon and 5.

POLICE COMMITTEE?

Decision Next Tuesday. Council will probably decide to add three voting citizen members to the Borough's Police Committee. That was the prediction of Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week, as he looked ahead to this Thursday's agenda meeting, and next Tuesday's regular public meeting.

A decision will definitely be made at Tuesday's meeting, he promised. The alternative to three appointed voting members would be an advisory committee outside the structure of the Police Committee. The mayor added that the majority of Councilmen don't seem to want a public referendum on the matter, as proposed at the April 20 public meeting.

Also on Tuesday, the mayor will name a citizen's committee on the Central Business District, as proposed at the Town Meeting held April 23 in the First Baptist Church.

The committee will have twin objectives, the mayor explained:

(1) putting together into a coherent picture, all the fragments of "housing" in the Borough, like public housing, board of health inspections and so on. This would be done on a continuing permanent basis. (2) examining the effects of development in the CBD on traffic and neighborhoods.

JIMMY STEWART, FOR UNCLE BEN: A gentle, warm, loving and without mawkishness, was offered in McCarter Theatre on Sunday to B. Franklin Burn, mentor and guide to several generations of Triangle Club undergraduates of Princeton University. "Uncle Ben" died last fall at the age of 96. He was graduate treasurer of Triangle for some 60 years. Here, Jimmy Stewart of the Class of '32, reminisces about Uncle Ben. (Bab Durell Photo)

The mayor is considering a relatively permanent group, with perhaps seven members, serving staggered three-year terms.

First Three Steps. He blocked out a three-step program for working out CBD plans. First, the new committee will meet with the Regional Planning Board and University representatives; second, the Planning Board will meet with about 70 different citizens' groups to get their ideas while CBD plans are still in a fluid state; third there will be formal public meetings on plans for the Central Business District. These formal meetings will not take place until autumn, the mayor said.

For the University's comments on developments in the area, see page 5.

Also at Council's next Tuesday meeting, Robert Hendry will speak on what he calls "the plight of the Borough property-tax payer versus the Sears report." The Sears report is the New Jersey Tax Policy proposal.

Mr. Hendry stated this week that he will ask Council to pass a resolution "asking for relief from the 60% tax-exempt property burden carried by Borough taxpayers." It is understood that Mr. Hendry is referring to tax-exempt educational institutions like Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary.

LOMBARDO REPLIES

To Recreation Board. The running battle between Borough Councilman Martin Lombardo and the Princeton Recreation Board shows no signs of abating.

Mr. Lombardo has issued a lengthy reply to a statement by the Recreation Board last week which charged that Mr. Lombardo was not fully informed about board activities. "It is a deplorable situation," Mr. Lombardo said, "that the Recreation Director and Board have not directed themselves to the serious community issues that I have constantly raised but have decided to cloud the issues by attacking my attendance at their Recreation Board Meetings."

At the same time, William Cirullo, a member of the Joint Recreation Board since last fall, issued his own three-page statement, saying that the board's statement "did not express the feeling of the entire board and was not sanctioned directly" by him. He said that he felt that "Councilman Lombardo had presented valid criticisms on subjects about which he is knowledgeable."

Mr. Lombardo said that his questions were directed to: our citizens involved in the equal justice policies for all Recreation programs; checks and balances between the Recreation Board and its Director; effectively planned and executed programs (The question has been raised whether or not the present staff can handle the $165,000 annual Recreation Budget in a responsible manner); and inaccurate information given out by the Recreation Department.

Emergency Meeting Sought: Mr. Lombardo said that at the next Borough agenda meeting, he will ask Mayor and Council to call an emergency meeting between the Recreation Board and Council to discuss these major issues.

Mr. Lombardo, who is Council liaison representative to the Recreation Board, takes the board and its executive director R. Donald Barr to task for the following:

When Mr. Barr suspended 48 players from the adult basketball league after art works were stolen from Princeton Day School when the teams played there, Mr. Lombardo described his action as "mass punishment . . . a technique well known to dictatorships and prison camps. Mr. Barr, he said, "had no direct evidence that any member of the suspended teams was responsible."

Because it violated the basic human right to be considered innocent unless there is credible evidence to the contrary Mr. Lombardo termed the suspension "utterly unacceptable." Unfortunately . . . the Princeton Community has not yet had the chance to consider the implications of his conduct.

If we were uniformed as the Recreation Board stated, it was because, Mr. Lombardo replied, the board failed to keep Council and Committee advised of their activities. He charged the board with providing inaccurate information, citing cost figures for night lighting at the Community Park pools as an example.

He explained why he had not attended monthly meetings of the Recreation Board, and accused the board of failing to notify him of changed dates and cancellations. Failure by Mr. Barr to try to contact him at work, Borough Hall or by mail, "illustrates to me that he did not relish my attendance at the meetings . . . " "One would think from their statement that one would not know that Hanoi was bombed unless he was there."

Pressure from Borough Council to install night lights at the pool sparked the survey that the Recreation Board took credit for last week. Mr. Lombardo declared, not any interest by the board in the recreation needs of the community. He added that results of the survey have been promised by Mr. Barr for over a year "and we are still waiting for the full results."

Because the survey was not completed in time for the 1972 budget presentation when it was needed most and because other pertinent information was lacking, he voted against the Borough Budget.

He called on the Board and Mr. Barr to sponsor public hearings on recreation throughout the community to learn how they might provide a more balanced program for all citizens.

Guilt by Association. Mr. Cirullo in his statement reported that the basketball issue was discussed thoroughly at the February meeting. He and the players felt that "guilt through association" should not be the basis for a decision. "A rational and justified means of evaluation should have been induced before disciplinary action occurs," he said.

The report that Mr. Lombardo suggested no action take place is simply not true, he added. "Councilman Lombardo stated only that he completely disagreed with the process by which the members were suspended."

Mr. Cirullo also defends Mr. Lombardo's absence from meeting with a month-by-month explanation. Since his appointment to the board, Mr. Cirullo recalls, Councilman Lombardo has called him periodically to discuss community concerns.

Concerning the poor condition of the Community Park playing fields — another issue raised by Mr. Lombardo — Mr. Cirullo says that because of their constant use, "it would seem reasonable to place a priority on maintaining these

University Reports on Plans for Palmer Square

(The following statement was issued this week by Princeton University to outline its policy governing future development of the area north of Palmer Square.)

"Because of deep and understandable concerns recently expressed about the status of planning for the development of lands adjacent to the Playhouse Theater in Princeton, a part of Palmer Square, Inc., John P. Moran, General Manager of Planning, Plant and Properties at Princeton University, issued the following statement on behalf of the University which owns 98 percent of the stock in Palmer Square, Inc.:

"Almost a year ago President Goheen announced that the University is most anxious to help reach in the Playhouse area a solution providing an attractive and productive commercial and residential development including middle-income — and, if possible, low-income — housing and also meeting the acute need for improved parking conditions. Dr. Goheen emphasized that above all any new development must be carefully related to, and compatible with, the adjoining residential areas, especially those to the north.

"Dr. Goheen further explained that the University is prepared to explore the leasing of land on a long-term basis to carefully selected developers who would ultimately construct, own, and manage the improvements. However, the University, through its land-lease terms, would retain a strong measure of control over design and construction standards and operating policy. It would make sure that the developer and his architect collaborated fully with municipal agencies, community groups, and others concerned, including spokesmen for the contiguous neighborhoods.

"We reaffirm that the University would not permit a developer to undertake any specific planning of the area until there had been full communication with local groups and individuals. And we wish to stress at this time that no developer has been chosen and that one probably won't be for some time.

"In view of the current study of the whole Central Business District being conducted by the Regional Planning Board, the Planning Board felt that it would be inappropriate for the University to undertake separate discussions with community groups of what is only a part of the Central Business District. The only action taken to date is that the University commissioned two New York City firms, James D. Landauer Associates, Inc., and Llewellyn-Davies Associates, to determine only the general feasibility of contemplating any developments for the four-acre tract surrounding the Playhouse Theater. All of this information was made available to the Regional Planning Board last fall at its request. "By no stretch of the imagination can this feasibility study, with its roughly sketched options, be considered a development plan. It contains no community input whatsoever and, in fact, was prepared as a starting-point for open community discussions. It should also be noted that the study is only concerned with the remaining undeveloped land owned by Palmer Square, Inc. and not with the entire Central Business District.

"The University is determined that any development must be responsive to community needs and priorities and must represent a happier use of Palmer Square lands than the present sea of blacktop within the context of the Central Business District Master Plan. It is our belief that the area must be attractive, economically feasible and accessible to its neighbors without "walls" or "back doors."

"It is our understanding that a Mayor's Committee is being formed in accordance with the suggestion from the Plan-A-Town-Meeting held at the First Baptist Church on Sunday, April 23. Grant D. Green, Director of the University's Real Estate Department, myself and other University officers are looking forward to meeting with the Mayor's Committee to discuss preliminary feasibility studies."

ASSAULT CHARGES FLY

Not the Ball. A softball try-out for an adult softball league team ended Sunday at Community Park field with one player being cut and two assault charges made.

Gerald Grover, 24, of 4 Maple Terrace, manager of Grover's Hustlers in the Princeton Adult Softball League, came to Township police headquarters at 2:40 and signed a complaint charge against Wesley Hines, 19, of Leigh Avenue. Armed with a warrant signed by Township Judge Burton Peskin, Ptl. Peter J. Savalli arrested Hines at his home at 4:30.

Held in Township Jail overnight, Hines was released Monday night in $2,000 bail. He was scheduled to appear in Township court this Wednesday.

Hines, in turn, charged Grover with assault. Grover, who was treated at the Princeton Medical Center, where he received 11 sutures to close a laceration of his lip, was released in his own recognizance. Grover claims that during a dispute with Hines at the try-out, Hines assaulted him with a dangerous weapon. Police described it as a razor-type instrument.

ing of three Township homes last week.

A Swiss wooden clock replica valued at $25 and a $3 lamp were stolen from the living room of a home still under construction at 215 Hartley Avenue. Police identified the owner as Rudolph March and placed the theft between 2 and 9 a.m. on Saturday.

The same morning around 2:45, the son of Ronald Endres, 114 Maclean Circle, saw the shadow of a man, police said, going through his father's trousers pockets. Frightened, the intruder ran downstairs and fled the house from a family room.

The only description police received of the suspect is that he is about six feet tall.

The home of Irby Houston, 459 Walnut Lane, was entered Thursday by way of a bedroom window. Taken were eight Darvon (pain-killing) tablets valued at $2.50. Police found the empty prescription bottle on the bathroom floor. Nothing else was found to be missing.

Pt. William Potts and Detective Frank Bocciafuso are investigating.

Two in the Borough. Borough police report two entries last week, the most recent of which took place between 7:15 and 11:55 p.m. Sunday evening, when a color television set was removed from 19 University Place.

A window pane in a rear door was broken to get inside, police said. The owner of the set is Meridith Dean.

On Friday, someone entered the room of Jorge Perez, 20, of 126 John Street, unlocked a closet door and took $200 in cash, $80 in checks, the victim's passport for Costa Rica and an airline ticket.

Police said that somehow the thief obtained a key to the victim's closet. Mr. Perez is employed by a Princeton restaurant.

SHOPLIFTING CONTINUES
At Davidson's Market. Shop

lifting continues at Davidson's Market on Nassau Street, police report, with the arrest last week of two juveniles.

On Friday, a 17-year-old Princeton university student was arrested and the day before a 15-year-old girl, both for taking minor items. Ptl. Arthur Jackson made both arrests.

Vandalism Continues. Another continuation that police have to contend with, according to Lt. Michael Carnevale, is "a series of vandalism to cars parked behind the clubs on Prospect Avenue."

Slashed tires and broken windows are part of the vandalism, he said.

BOROUGH MAN ARRESTED
In Gambling Raid. A Borough resident was arrested last week by members of the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office who charged him with gambling.

Peter Young, 33, 252 John Street, is presently free on $8,000 bail after having been charged with keeping a gambling resort and working for a lottery. The raid was conducted at Young's home by seven members of the Prosecutor's office. According to the raiders Young was engaged in a $250,000 a year operation.

DROPS DOG 40 FEET
Charged by SPCA. A Borough man has been charged with cruelty to animals by the SPCA after he allegedly dropped a dog 40 feet in Wilcox Hall on the university campus, severely injuring the dog.

Robert A. Brooks, 22, 39 Clay Street, has also been charged by Borough police with being under the influence of alcohol. He faces a hearing in Borough court.

According to student witnesses, Brooks entered the lobby of Wilcox Hall around 2 Saturday morning, walked up to the dog and kicked him in the head. The dog then walked up the staircase and Brooks followed it to the second floor where he allegedly picked up the dog and hurled him to the balcony 40 feet below.

Edward Jones, an agent for the SPCA called by the students, signed the complaint against Brooks. The owner of the dog had him treated by a local veterinarian, police said.

BUYS LIQUOR FOR MINOR

Lawrenceville Man Charged. Robert S. Martin, 27, of Pine Tree Cottage, Lawrenceville, was arrested on the University campus near the Nassau Street wall Thursday and charged with purchasing alcohol for a minor.

He is scheduled to appear in court May 17. Detective Anthony Ranfone and Ptl. Victor Fasanello made the arrest.

CAR IS TOTALED
In Route 206 Mishap. A Trenton couple escaped serious injury Friday when their car left Stockton Street near Independence Drive and struck a utility pole.

Township police describe the 1972 model car driven by Betty J. Funderburg, 23, as a total loss. She received lacerations of the cheek and forehead. Her husband, Roosevelt, 23, was treated for lacerations of the neck and shoulder. Mrs. Funderburg was charged with reckless driving by Ptl. Harry Morton.

According to police, Mrs. Funderburg lost control of the car. It swerved across the opposite lane, mounted the curb and left the roadway. It veered back on the road, swerved sideways, left the roadway again and slammed into the pole, snapping it 10 feet above the ground. The mishap took place at 8:39 p.m.

Two-Car Accident. The entire front ends of two cars were damaged Friday at 5:38 at an intersection crash at Valley Road and Walnut Lane.

Mrs. Alice Keizer, 53, 732 Kingston Road, sustained a fractured wrist and abrasions of the head and knee. Ptl. Anthony Gaylord ticketed the second driver, Louise L. Billings, 71, 298 Nassau Street, with failing to yield after stopping on Walnut Lane. Mrs. Billings was not injured.

Two cars came together early last week at Cuyler Road and Dempsey Avenue.

Gloria A. Venta, 22, 505 Ewing Street, received contusions of the head and arm when the right side of her car was struck by a second car operated by Gershone L. White, 49, 84 Dempsey. The impact spun the Venta car around, sending it into a car parked on Cuyler owned by Estelle Best of Skillman.

According to the investigation by Ptl. William Potts, the White car failed to yield to the Venta car coming down Cuyler, causing the latter to swerve to the right and go out of control. There were no charges.

Costly Snack. A sliding banana split caused a head-on collision on University Place last Wednesday, resulting injury to one driver. Both cars had to be towed away.

Judith A. Belsheim, 20, 108 Stockton Street, had just turned off Nassau when a banana split on the front seat started sliding off toward the floor. She reached over to stop it from falling and when she looked up, saw there was no way to avoid a collision with a Thunderbird driven by Marie Altieri, 55, of Hightstown. "I didn't have a chance to stop on the brake or anything," she told Lt. Theodore Lewis.

Miss Belsheim was treated at the Princeton Medical Center for fractured teeth, lacerations of the face and contusions. Mrs. Altieri complained of being hit in the stomach by the steering wheel but refused medical attention.

Miss Belsheim was issued a summons for failing to keep right.

EIGHT SPLIT REWARD
For Soto's Capture. The $10,000 reward offered four years ago by Princeton Bank and Trust Company after the fatal shooting of its bank teller Kirsti Plister has been split in unequal portions between eight people, who aided in the capture of Jose Soto.

The settlement, reached a month ago with the aid of Superior Court Judge Baruch S. Seidman, ended a year-long battle over the money.

Soto, who was picked up three weeks after the shooting by New York City detectives acting on a tip, pleaded guilty to the February 13, 1968 slaying, and is serving a life sentence.

Luis Gonzales, the informant who led officers Brendan Tumulty and John Reynolds to Soto, received the lion's share of the reward, $5,000.

The couple Soto stayed with before the attempted robbery, George and Julia Davila, each were awarded $1,375. Another teller, Margaret Dishon and two witnesses, David Cuozzo

FUR FLING PLANNED

By Newcomer's Club. For women who love the romance and beauty of fine furs and the excitement of the new fun furs the Newcomer's Club of the Princeton YWCA on Thursday, May 11, at 12:30 p.m., will present a large and stunning collection of fine quality fur coats, capes, stoles and accessories. The showing of exciting new furs, entitled "Newcomers' Fur Fling" has been planned for the club by program chairman, Mrs. Barbara Kolosek. The furs will be provided by the Flemington Fur Company.

Besides the fabulous furs, the fashion showing will include casual wear, pants suits and cloth coats for the viewers enjoyment.

Newcomers, Marie Beaumont, Jimmie Browne, Rita Edmunds, Martha Ferguson, Nancy Frank, Margie Gutekunst, Sheila Hewitt, Dorothy Kamm and Harriet Scott will be modeling the furs and other garments in the fur fling.

Special guests at the Fur Fling will be the past presidents of the Newcomers Club. All members of Newcomers and anyone new to the Princeton area are invited to the Fur Fashion Show.

APPLICATION WITHDRAWN

For Home Conversions. The application Thursday by Princeton University before the Borough Zoning Board to convert two single-family homes into multiple use erupted into acrimony and ended with the University withdrawing its applications.

PLANNING A FUR FLING: Newcomers' Club program chairman Barbara Kolasek and model Margie Gutekunst and Nancy Frank are planning for the club's Fur Fling to be held Thursday, May 11 at the YMCA.

In a statement, the board said: "The request of Princeton University to withdraw its application for 35 University Place and 37 William Street is granted due to confusion caused by presentation of these matters."

"The applicant may resubmit the application in more candid and forthright form if the applicant so desires. The board is not inclined to rule on the interpretation requested by Princeton University that eight students in a building compromise a dormitory while ten students in a building comprise only two families."

John H. Dumont, attorney for the University, had presented plans for the conversion of a two and one-half story frame house at 37 William Street to a dormitory housing eight students, and a single family dwelling at 25 University Place into a two-family dwelling.

Next Step in Doubt. Mr. Dumont said the next day he did not know whether the University would appear next month with an alternative or not. He added that the University planned to review its entire housing situation prior to the next meeting of the Zoning Board.

At issue was what constitutes a "family." The zoning ordinance describes a family as "one or more persons occupying one dwelling unit as a single house-keeping unit." It adds that more than five persons not related by blood, marriage or adoption shall not constitute one "family". But for five and under, it makes no distinction. The five persons need not be related in any way and still constitute a family.

Mr. Dumont proposed putting two "families" of five students each in the dwelling at 35 University Place. The home is located in an R-4 zone where two-family homes are permitted with board approval.

"Am I to understand," asked the board's attorney of Mr. Dumont, "that ten people will be living there and you are not going to call it a dormitory?" Board chairman Robert Sullivan charged the University with misrepresentation.

"We Don't Want Them." Virtually every resident who was notified of the University's plans for the house adjacent to the University Press on William Street was opposed. Their opposition — sometimes vehement — could be summed up as, "Keep the students on campus, we don't want them."

The building is located in an E-1 zone where conversions to a 2-family, multiple dwelling or rooming house are permitted on condition there are no structural alterations and the same number of parking spaces be provided as would be required for new construction of a similar building. The proposed dormitory would have cooking privileges.

"The fact that the zoning law included those and not a dormitory, we felt, eliminated a dormitory," commented a board spokesman.

Dormitories are permitted in an E-1 zone as a conditional use, but the ordinance makes no comment, the spokesman said, about converting an existing dwelling. "We felt it should be new construction. It's a fine line that was never resolved when the University decided to withdraw."

"No" Again to Apartments. Gerald Silvester of Cranbury returned for the second time in two months, requesting zoning relief that would permit him to convert the former Packer moving warehouse, he owns at 44 Patton Avenue into three apartments. He was denied last month when he requested four; he was denied again Thursday.

Again, as they did last month, neighbors were strongly opposed to apartments in the area.

Theodore Vreeland, attorney for some of the neighbors, emphasized that there was no change in the application. "His first application was for multiple family use; his second application is for multiple family use. In what way is it materially different other than it is three apartments instead of four?" he asked the board.

The sameness of the application was reflected in the reasons for the board's denial — almost a carbon copy of its first ruling. Too much density, poor access, said the board.

If not apartments, what does Mr. Silvester propose to do with the 6,000 square foot building? "There's not much else I can do with it other than to continue to use it for storage," Mr. Silvester said. He could reapply for two apartments but it would be "extremely iffy", he added, if two could be economically profitable. He could convert the entire warehouse into a single family dwelling without having to go before the zoning board.

In a final application, James Crimmins of 287 Nassau Street was granted a variance allowing him to provide a parking space in his front yard area.

MRS. FARLEY RESIGNS

As Health Officer. The Township's health officer, Mrs. Matcella Farley, has resigned effective immediately.

Her own health is thought to be the reason for her resignation, although she did not mention it in her letter to the Board of Health. She was seriously ill last year.

Mrs. Barbara Smoyer, Township Committeeman with the Board of Health portfolio, said Mrs. Farley "was going along happily" with negotiations regarding Township provision of health services, under contract, to West Windsor.

"We still hadn't wrapped up the contract and final cost figures aren't yet in," Mrs. Smoyer explained. "Mrs. Farley seemed pleased with the add."

SHAVIAN DIALOGUE: In Bernard Shaw's "The Philanderer," opening this weekend at Theatre Intime, there is brisk and biting dialogue about the role of women in the world as relevant today as in Shaw's time. Here, Michele La Rue and Daniel Haughey exchange lines in Intime's production.

News Of The THEATRES

SHAW IS READY
"Philanderer" at Intime. The final production of the season for the University's Theatre Intime will be Shaw's "The Philanderer," scheduled to open in Murray Theatre at 8:30 p.m. this Thursday.

It will play again this Friday and Saturday, and next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, all at the 8:30 p.m. curtain-time. Tickets may be reserved by calling 432-8181 between 1-5 and 7-10 p.m. daily.

Charteris the philanderer, is Stephen Hunter, Princeton student whose other roles, both in England, include Bolingbroke in "Richard II" and George in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" He's also been in five Intime productions, and directed the recent "Wayzack."

Julia Craven, the "liberated thinker," will be Michele La Rue, whose credits include roles in "Our Town," "A Hatful of Rain," "Pygmalion" and "Andromache."

Others in the cast are Daniel Haughey, a regular member of Intime who has had both acting and directing assignments; James Shankman, Pat Gorman and Howard Leathers, also of the Intime membership, and Helena Snow, a student at Princeton High School.

Peter Breger is directing. A recipient of a New York State Council on the Arts award for his work in theatre, Mr. Breger has directed both live and TV shows, and has acted in several Intime productions.

TV COMMERCIALS

A Whole Evening. The TV commercial, or "mini-movie" will be the subject of a special film program to be shown at McCarter next Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m. Unreserved tickets are now on sale at the box-office.

The full-length program has been assembled by Wallace Ross, founder-director of the American TV Commercial's Festival. He has chosen prize-winners from his own Festival, and selections from some of the most memorable TV campaigns in recent years, particularly Volkswagen and Alka-Seltzer.

He will also show commercials from other countries. "These Commercials are Rated X," illustrating the degrees of permissiveness allowed in other cultures.

MASON IS ILL

Show Postponed to June. Dave Mason, British rock singer and guitarist, has postponed his McCarter Theatre concert from Sunday, May 14, to Sunday, June 4 because of illness.

All May 14 tickets will be honored June 4, and remaining seats are on sale at the McCarter box-office.

NOT THE HIGH KICKLINE: A roller skating ballet was a feature of "Blue Genes," the Princeton Triangle Club's annual production which was on view last weekend in McCarter Theatre.

Triangle: "Inspired Dullness;" "Blue Genes" Fails to Please

The last time I commented on the Triangle Club show in these pages my wife and I were uninvited to dinner. I had indicated that the quality of the show was comparable to that of the Miss America pageant, and offense was taken. That was in 1969, I think, and somehow I did not receive the assignment in the interim.

That the commentary now falls to me I ascribe to an administrative foul-up, or a faulty memory, because... well, things are no better. Or they are slightly better. Or my expectations being much lower this year, they have nearly been met. I would love to be able to recommend the Triangle Club show, "Blue Genes," as "good clean family fun." The best I can do is this: I recommend the Triangle Club show as bad clean family fun.

This second venture to the Triangle opus has taught me a little about what the tradition is all about. Nobody expects it to be good. In fact, nobody obviously tries. They probably discard the good jokes, the clever ideas, the interesting stuff.

Then they decorate the evergreen with old jokes (someone associated with the Triangle Club must have an immense and valuable old-joke-book library), revamped high school talents, and an ineffable gift for the uninteresting. There is a sort of brilliance in reverse here: inspired dullness.

A Search for Truth. I tried, yes I did, to seek out the well-hidden things I know to be true. The show is written, and overwritten, by young people. I know that.

Young people perform it. I know that, too. These are talented and pretty people. I know that, it's obvious.

But I couldn't shake the awful feeling that everyone on stage, lithe of face and body, was wearing a young person costume, and that, in reality, everyone was at least 40. If that suspicion proves to be true, I'm happy to congratulate the make-up and costume crews.

Want to know "the story?" Well, "Blue Genes" is about these twins (boy and girl) who are gorgeous, and I mean it: beautiful hair, clear eyes, straight teeth.

They are, like most young people, possessed by parents, the female of whom moonlights as a roller derby queen, and the male of whom complains about his wife's cooking a lot. It is a combination of "Father Knows Best" and "The Honeymooners," except it's bad.

The twins go to college, after the male of the pair is rejected by The College of His Choice, an old Ivy institution. Since there are only two colleges in the world, he has to go to Inter-Collegiate University (ICU, ha-ha-ha-ha) with his sister.

There, since the twins have the best hair, clearest eyes, straightest teeth of all, they both run for President of the Freshman Class. True to form in elections of this kind, one of them loses, the bottom falls out of his world, he realizes the irrelevance of study, he hears the call of beads and blue jeans and plans to abandon ICU. That's the end of the show.

A Death is Recorded. If any one has wondered what happened to the old college musical, wonder no more. It dies here. I expected Xavier Cugat to appear at any minute, ready to play for the Big Hop. But I sense that the Triangle Club, at its heart, has none of the innocence of Ronald Reagan and June Allyson on campus.

There is a certain kind of mindless self-congratulation implicit in the show, and a rather moving self-indulgence. The Triangle Club and its Princetonian audience spends a considerable amount of money and wastes a lot of excellent talent each year, in this effort to justify its existence. It will continue and my envious comments (I am impoverished in money and talents) will change neither the waste nor the mentality that makes it necessary.

Experiences like this make me realize how few people there are in the world who are willing to commit their powers to intelligence, or in this case, to wit. That's what I look for from experiences like this. As you might have guessed, I'm still looking.

"King of Hearts" will be shown next Monday, at 8 p.m. in the theatre. Part slapstick, part satire, "King of Hearts" is set in a French town whose inhabitants have fled the World War I Germans, leaving only the inhabitants of the local insane asylum.

STILL AUDITIONING

For "Madwoman". Everybody who attended Sunday's tryouts for the Princeton Community Players' "Madwoman of Chailot" has been asked to come back this Thursday, at 8:30 p.m., to the Little Theatre of the Unitarian Church.

Newcomers who didn't go Sunday, are invited also, says director Leo Cohen. Production dates for "Madwoman of Chailot" at June 9-11 and 15-17.

"DEATH OF A SALESMAN"

At Pennington School. Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" will be the spring drama production for The Pennington School. It will be presented on the nights of May 11 and 12.

Michael D. Winkler, instructor in history, will direct the production. The cast will be composed of eight Pennington School faculty and boys and four Hopewell Valley Central High School girls. Eight Pennington students are involved in the technical work.

The play will be performed at 8 each night in the old section of the Sparks Memorial Gymnasium. The first evening of the play, Thursday, May 11, will be reserved for The Pennington School student body and faculty. The second evening, Friday, May 12, will be open to the general public at $1 per person.

APARRI AT WORK

Open Classes. The Aparri School of Dance is holding open classes this week, presenting all its students in various dances, some composed by the students themselves, others choreographed by the teachers.

KEIR DULLEA is the surviving astronaut in "2001: A Space Odyssey," the outer space epic that returns this week to the Princeton Playhouse.

Beginners (ages six and seven) through the advanced dancers are represented. Invitations for the open classes may be obtained by calling the director of the school, Nila Gibbons, at 924-1822.

"COPPELIA"

By Regional Ballet. Delibes' familiar ballet "Coppelia" will be danced by members of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company in two performances on Sunday, May 14, at the War Memorial Building in Trenton. The ballet will be given at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained at the Princeton University Store, or through the Greater Trenton Symphony office, 28 West State Street, 394-1338. The War Memorial box-office will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 13, and from noon on Sunday, the day of the performances.

Frederic Franklin, former director of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, and now co-director of the National Ballet Company, has re-staged "Coppelia" for the Princeton company. Mr. Franklin will himself dance the part of Dr. Coppélius, inventor of Coppelia, the mechanical doll.

Dancers from the Princeton area participating in "Coppelia" are Dorothy Pettit Alonso, who will dance the lead role of Swanilda in the 7 p.m. performance, Mary Fike, Beatrice Neuwirth, Ellen Kulik, Carter McAdams, Barbara Wagner, Charlotta Bishop, Diana Zeydel, Maxine Lampert, Cheryl Hendrickson, Julie Winterbottom, Patricia McCullough, Catherine Guerin and Robin Goldman, all of Princeton.

Also Virginia Hepburn, Catherine Biewener, Christina Klota and Lynne Dennis of Pennington; Gale Wilson and Gina Cipelli of Princeton Junction; Kathy Richards from Skillman; Linda Edwards from Kingston and Renita D'ippolito from Cranbury.

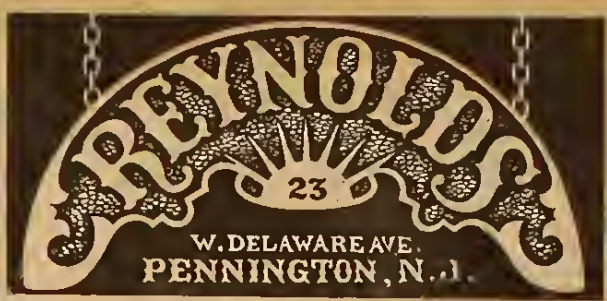

GARDEN

The Sorrow and the Pity (now playing) is a four-and-a-half hour documentary — possibly the most comprehensive ever filmed. Its concern is the myth of Occupied France's non-collaboration with the Nazis. Marcel Ophuls, the director, uses newsreel footage, interviews and actual propaganda films in a well-paced interweaving of light and heavy moments.

There was a resistance movement, largely made up of students, farmers and workers of the lower class. The middle classes in the main shunned the resistance, and there is an astonishing old film clip showing rolicking fraternization with Nazi soldiers in a famous club. The Germans unleashed latent anti-semitism, which is starkly reported.

The film lives and breathes, and its interviews are masterpieces. The son-in-law of Pierre Laval, premier of France during the occupation, says in defense that Laval cared for the people of France and tried to defend them. Ophuls intercuts with Laval's telegram ordering thousands of Jewish children

TWO PROGRAMS PLANNED

By Friends of Music, The Princeton University Orchestra will give its last concert of the season on Friday, in Alexander Hall, at 8:30 p.m. The program will be Ballet Berlioz; Symphony No. 6 ("Pastoral") by Beethoven and "Introduction and Allegro" by Ravel, with Juli Miller, Harp soloist. The Berlioz will be conducted by D. Kern Holoman, assistant conductor; the rest of the program will be conducted by Peter Westergaard.

Mrs. Miller, harpist, is the wife of a Princeton University graduate student. She began her studies at the age of 14. She is a graduate of the Interlochen Arts Academy, Michigan, and the New England Conservatory of Music. She is at present studying with Reinhardt Elster of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

Karla Johnson, Soprano will give a recital Sunday evening, at 8:30 in Woolworth Center. Jane O'Leary will be at the piano.

Four of Beethoven's "Irish Songs" will be performed with the assistance of Todd Fonsler, baritone, Joseph Chen, violin and Susan Swihort, violoncello. The rest of the program will consist of songs by Purcell, Berg, Webern, Ibert, Ives and Richard Strauss.

Karla Johnson is a native of Mobile, Alabama. She holds a Bachelor's Degree in music and has studied voice with Shirlee Emmons. She has appeared as soprano soloist with the Princeton Chapel Choir in their performance of the Mozart Requiem in 1971 and Mozart's Davidde Penitente in 1972 and with the Princeton University Glee Club in Brahms' Ein deutsches Requiem in 1970.

Jane O'Leary is a fourth year graduate student in composition in the Music Department; she is currently teaching music theory in Swarthmore College. Mrs. O'Leary has studied the piano with Robert Miller.

Both programs, sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton, are open to the public admission free.

sent to Germany — where they were almost immediately gassed. There are warm interviews with Resistance leaders and British spies. In all, no stone seems to have been unturned to produce this stark portrait of life in an occupied country.

The Garden is showing "The Sorrow and the Pity" at 7 p.m. only each evening, and at 1 p.m. matinees on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

PLAYHOUSE.

2001: A Space Odyssey (now playing). The epic science fiction film returns. Computer "Hal", crisis on the Moon, and all.

It is a fascinating, provocative and complex picture, with fantastic sets and masterful photography. It moves from a wordless beginning where apes discover the first weapon to the year 2001 when strange space craft glide in graceful patterns and space stations include Howard Johnson restaurants. A stone slab in a moon crater gives off deafening beeping sounds, signals directed towards Juniper, and an expeditionary force of five astronauts is dispatched to that planet — which has not been explored.

The computer, "Hal," runs the ship during the long journey through space. It not only thinks but feels and talks, and turns out to be diabolical. The landing on Jupiter, depicted with a wild kaleidoscope of dizzying color, is the onset of the most cryptic part of the film. The cast includes Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood and William Sylvester. Running time is 160 minutes.

ed responsibility, but she did mention her health."

Plans to serve West Windsor will now be dropped, Mrs. Smoyer said. West Windsor has had a contract for health services with the Borough of Princeton, but that contract is due to expire.

"Our first job is to find a replacement for Mrs. Farley in the Township's own health office," Mrs. Smoyer said. "We'll tell job applicants we hope we can work with West Windsor. Most health officers would prefer a larger district because you can give better care and cover more aspects of the health field."

Mrs. Farley's resignation raises again the question of Borough-Township board of health consolidation.

"It does open up a lot of new possibilities about possible merger with the Borough's board," Mrs. Smoyer conceded. "We will need to explore them."

Mrs. Farley was in the Township's health department for 17 years, serving as full-fledged health officer for over a decade.

The 25-acre wooded plot on Johnson Avenue is within walking distance of schools, shopping, public transportation and the newly-constructed Lawrence Community Center. Subsidized by federal money, rentals will range from $126 for a one-bedroom to $189 for a five-bedroom.

Lawrence Non-Profit Housing Inc. is comprised of seven organizations, including the Lawrence Presbyterian Church, the First Baptist Church of Lawrence Township and the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs.

TEACHER TO RETIRE

Mrs. Richards, from PHS. Mrs. Glenda G. Richards, who has taught Latin at Princeton High School for 29 years, will retire at the end of the present school year.

Honor Award Certificates were presented to 59 high school students and 27 Middle School students who maintained an "A" or "B" in Latin for the whole year.

3 Winning Mother's Day Gifts — Franklin Mint, Hamilton Mint and Lincoln Mint Mother's Day

1972 FRANKLIN MINT MOTHERS DAY — A STERLING SILVER FIRST EDITION — $175.00

Each plate of the first edition Franklin Mint is an individually etched effort from the original art work by the great Irene Spencer from Monte Vista, California. In the words of the wonderful Joseph M. Segel, an art expert and a member of the U.S. State Departments' Fine Art Committee "Mrs. Spencer's obvious feeling for this subject placed her work above that of several better known artists that were considered. Her art is of people. Her softness of line, her gentle tones and shadings, all evoke a tender peace that transcends her obvious skill as an artist. Mrs. Spencer's drawing of mother and child has the quality of an old master in its warmth, sensitivity and emotional force."

Irene Spencer was born and raised in Chicago. She studied at the Academy of Art and the Chicago Art Institute. She is now a young grandmother and devotes all her talent to fine art.

Each plate will be eight inches in diameter and will come excitingly packaged in a nice presentation case. Every plate will have a sterling silver medal attached to the bottom of each plate which will certify its authenticity and have your individual registration number.

Please call us free at (609) 924-4204 to ask about reserving your Franklin Mint Mothers. Also reserve your Hamilton Mint .999 Pure Silver "Whistlers Mother" first issue medallion at only $15.00. The sold out Lincoln Mint collies are increasing in price and we only have a few at $185.00.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

For New Emergency Department. The Princeton Medical Center's new million dollar Emergency Department complex will have an Open House scheduled for Sunday, May 14, from 1 to 5.

John W. Kauffman, the medical center's executive vice-president, termed the emergency complex opening "an event of tremendous significance in the total health care picture throughout our service area."

"Our existing emergency health care facilities were simply inadequate to effectively handle today's mushrooming patient case load," Mr. Kauffman said. "When the Emergency Department was established in 1953, 3,000 patients were seen that first year. Last year we cared for 24,000 people. We estimate this number will climb to 35,000 by 1975."

Providing some 6,300 square feet of floor space, compared with the old unit's 769 square feet, the new Emergency Department, located at the Center's General Hospital unit on Witherspoon Street in Princeton, includes observation beds, diagnostic x-ray, cast room and splint supplies, em-

WOMEN'S CENTER OPENS On Witherspoon Street. If a "woman's place" isn't in the home any longer, it's probably at The Woman's Place, 14 1/2 Witherspoon Street, headquarters for the Central New Jersey Chapter of N.O.W. (National Organization for Women).

The Woman's Place, which opened officially last month, is three flights up above the Army-Navy Store. It's a growing center for feminism and it features information about the feminist movement and an extensive library of materials on Women's issues.

Women who want to find out about feminism, and also spend a noon-break from home or office, are invited to attend lunch-time rap sessions at the center every weekday from noon to 1. Participants should bring along sandwiches. Grace White, coordinator of N.O.W.'s speakers bureau, will also be on hand to arrange speaking engagements.

The library will be open Wednesdays from 9:30 to noon. All contributions to the growing fund of materials are welcome. Victory Chase, center librarian welcomes visitors who have a special research interest.

The Woman's Place is also open Sundays from 2 to 4. Phone number is 924-8989.

REGISTRATION SET

For YMCA Toddlers School. Registration for Princeton YMCA Toddlers School for three and four-year-olds will begin May 15 for both summer and fall sessions.

Mrs. Sue Duckworth, Director of the YMCA Pre-School programs said "In the interest of better planning for both teachers and parents, policy has been changed to allow earlier registration for the nursery school programs.

Summer Toddler's School offers the choice of one, two or three days from 9 to 11:30 a.m. The sessions will run for 4 or 8 weeks, June 27 until August 18.

Fall Toddler's School will run for 12 weeks from 9:15 to 11:30 a.m. or 12:45 to 3 p.m. September 27 to December 16. Three and four-year-olds will have the choice of two or three day programs with a special one day program on Wednesday afternoon.

Use of the new gymnasium on a weekly basis by the children recognizes improved physical control as being positively related to academic performance. The pre-school child care program, to be continued, recognizes a legitimate need for an extended day. All children enrolled in the nursery school will be allowed pre-registration in other YMCA pre-school programs.

SCULPTURE ON DISPLAY

At Studio on the Canal. The Princeton Cooperative Sculpture Workshop announces its third annual art exhibit and sale at the Studio on the Canal, Canal Road.

The exhibit begins this Sunday, and will run through Saturday, May 13. Area aspiring artists will exhibit their finished and unfinished sculpture pieces.

The workshop evolved from a sculpture class taught by Glenn Cullen. The workshop format has replaced the formal teacher-student relationship because this new format provides much more time for "hands-on" sculpture work. This is Dr. Cullen's third year of organizing the workshop.

As a complement to the sculptures, several painters will also exhibit their work. There will be contributions by Peter Cook, Alden Wicks, and Rex Gorleigh.

The public is invited to come in and browse, make comments, and offer criticism. The workshop is offering refreshments, including wine and cheese, this Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. For those unable to be present Sunday, the exhibit will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. each day thru Saturday. Canal Road is just off Alexander Road.

Workshop consists of: Glenn Cullen, Carol Collins, Laura Danziger, Dieter Weigmann, Patti Lysy, Anne-Marie Woodrow, Len Brown, Tom McCurdy, Ken Gapp, Elaine J. Smalley, and Martin Steele.

FROM PHS TO HUN

Faculty Change Announced. Franklin R. Dippery, an English teacher at Princeton High School for the past eight years, has been appointed to the faculty of the Hun School. Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, Headmaster, announced this week.

Mr. Dippery has taught sophomore and junior English and the Junior Honors course at the High School. He also served as advisor to the literary magazines and printing club, and at one time, coached the wrestling team. Prior to joining the Princeton High School Staff, Mr. Dippery taught for three years at Bradford High School, Bradford, Pa.

He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State University and holds an M.A. in Reading from Jersey City State College.

THORP IS HONORED

By Princeton University. Establishment of the Willard Thorp Thesis Prize in American Civilization, announced this week by Princeton University, honors one of this nation's distinguished literary historians, retired from active teaching but continuing to maintain his home in Princeton.

The $100 prize will be awarded to that Princeton senior in the American Civilization Program—which Thorp founded in 1942—who prepares what a faculty committee determines to be the "most outstanding thesis of a clearly interdisciplinary nature."

"We hope to stimulate interdisciplinary research in American history and life and we felt it was fitting to honor Professor Thorp," explained Dr. James M. Banner, Jr., Associate Professor of History and Chairman of the Program. He said he anticipated the first award would be made this June.

An interdepartmental plan of study, the Program in American Civilization is designed "to give undergraduates an understanding of their own civilization as a living

STUDENTS IN COURT

On Drug Charges. The twelve students arrested last week on the Princeton University campus by Borough police and charged with an assortment of drug violations were scheduled to appear in Borough Court Wednesday afternoon before Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Free on $3,000 bail are Harold D. Moore, 18; Glenn Stewart, 19; Paul Ashin, 18; Arthur Schoen, 18; and Richard Bern, 20. Steven Dujack, 19, appeared in county court Thursday to request reduction of his $9,000 bail set by Judge Tams. He has been issued eight complaint summonses charging him with possession and sale of marijuana, possession of methamphetamine and maintaining a common nuisance in his dormitory room.

Also arrested were David Di-check, 18; Richard Nightingale, 18; Thomas F. Pyle, 20; and Jo Anne Haag, 18, a student at Trenton State College. A 17-year-old student was released to the custody of the university dean, and an 18-year-old student was released on his own recognizance.

More than 40 complaints were signed by detectives Timothy Huizing and Anthony Ruffone. The drugs involved were marijuana, hashish and cocaine. One youth was charged with possession of a can of tear-gas, another with growing marijuana in his room.

The detectives had worked in disguise on campus periodically since the Borough's investigation began in February. Arrests were made at the Princeton College Inn, Holder Hall and Little Hall. Seventeen police took part in the early morning raid — the first since last June. It was co-ordinated by Lt. Michael Carnevale, who will become chief of police on August 1.

SWEET BRIAR BULB SALE UNDERWAY: Mrs. Robert Van Vranken and Mrs. John Byrne are co-chairmen of this year's Sweet Briar bulb sale, offering all kinds of spring-flowering "topsize" bulbs, grown and packed in Holland. Bulbs can be ordered now for delivery in late September from any Sweet Briar alumna or at the Stony Brook Garden Club's May Market set for 9 to 4 Tuesday at 15 Hodge Road. Proceeds from the sale are put toward a scholarship to the college for a student from this area.

CIRCUS IS COMING

May 21 at YMCA. Lions, tigers and elephants. Trick riders and trapeze artists. Clowns, acrobats, cowboys and Indians will be in Princeton Sunday, May 21, as part of the Royal Wild West Circus.

The Princeton YMCA is sponsoring performances of the circus at 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. at the Y grounds on Avalon Place. There is plenty of parking nearby.

Proceeds from the event will help the Y Rangers, 80 boys from the ages of 10 to 16, provide their own financing for this summer's camping and exploring trips to Nova Scotia, Michigan and the Western States.

The Rangers, some of them wearing clown costumes, are selling tickets door-to-door this Saturday afternoon and the following two weekends. Accompanied by their leaders and some fathers, they plan to canvass neighborhoods in Princeton, Hightstown, West Windsor, Kendall Park, Montgomery Township, Rocky Hill, Pennington and Hopewell.

Advance tickets also will be available at the YMCA and various area stores, including the Princeton University Store. Other ticket-selling stores will be identified by signs in their windows.

Tickets sold at the gate the day of the show will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for kids under 12 years old. Purchased in advance, they are $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children under 16 years old. And tickets won't be sold beyond the seating capacity of the Big Top — 1,500 seats each performance.

Also, advance ticket sales produce more money for the Y Rangers than sales on the day of the show. So, buying in advance helps a worthy cause, the sponsors point out.

The Royal Wild West Circus moves nomad-fashion from town-to-town in a fleet of trucks which open up to form a large tent with safe, clean facilities.

Also popping out of the special trucks are equestrian daredevils, trained jungle beasts, stage coaches and Conestoga wagons, aerialists, gymnasts and, of course, lots of clowns. In front of the Big Top is the traditional Midway with refreshment booths, side shows and picturesque entertainment for all ages.

LIBRARY SEEKS CRITICS

All of this — and more — at the new Taylor Rental Center, located on Route 206 just above Mary Watts' store. It opened the first of April and is experiencing the seasonal demand for tillers and other lawn and garden equipment. It has already supplied several weddings with dishes, silver, glasses, linens, tables and chairs. (A plate is 15 cents, a fork is a dime, a three-section serving dish that keeps foods warm is $6).

Chuck De Grace, the young man in charge, kept emphasizing "We sterilize and disinfect everything when it is brought back to us," as he pointed out the cribs, cots, wheel chairs, and such. The party and banquet items are sterilized before another customer rents them. All machinery is checked out as soon as it is returned to make sure the next customer isn't renting a headache. Customers are also shown how to run the machinery. A license is required to operate some of the contractor-builder equipment.

Taylor Rental Center has a very large, clean and well-lighted showroom. Next to it is a garage-like space with tractors, mowers and the like in it, and beyond is the maintenance and sterilizing section. All very orderly.

It opens at 7 a.m. and closes at 6 p.m. When you pick up your rototiller early in the morning, you don't have to return it until before noon the next day — so you essentially have it for a day and a half.

If you are moving, Taylor Rental Center has many types of trailers, hand trucks, dollies, trailer hitches, towbars and even furniture pads.

For camping, availabilities include camping trailers, tents, tarps, stoves, coolers, folding cots, sleeping bags (they get sterilized too), air mattresses, heaters, lanterns and even hatchets.

Or, if the car nut in your family is going to fool around with the motor, Taylor Rental has torque wrenches, impact wrenches, ridge reamers, hoists, compression testers, welders, torches, jacks, and something called a cylinder hone.

And if you are floor-minded, consider renting from Taylor such things as a sander, a tile cutter, a carpet stretcher — For the person having a go at carpentry, Taylor offers reciprocal saws, reversible dills, three types of sanders: belt, disc and orbital; and pneumatic masonry drills. Also all kinds of hand tools.

For the convalescent: hospital bed, wheel chair, cane, walker, crutches, commode, vaporizer, therapy lamp, bedside table and even a remote control TV set.

Taylor rents cement and mortar mixers, paint sprayers, wallpaper steamers, ladders, bicycles, sun lamps, portable bars, table linen, ice cream freezers and sand blasters. It is one of a chain of 175 Taylor Rental Centers. The Rocky Hill store and another in Somerville are franchises. If they don't have what you need in stock, Chuck De Grace told us, they can get it from their other store by the next day. The phone is 924-8080, and remember if you're renting something that has a seasonal demand — like mowers and tillers — to call ahead. You pay your rental when you take your gadget from the Center.

FOR RENT: Post hole diggers, infants' cribs, concrete mixers, silver champagne fountains, tv's, and tillers as well as about everything else at Taylor Rental Center, Route 206. That's Chuck DeGrace, above, the man in charge.

PEOPLE In The News

Mrs. Marianne Mantell, 58 Fairway Drive, who graduated with honors from Hunter College in 1950 and founded Caedmon Records the following year, has been named to the college's Hall of Fame. She was inducted at an awards banquet last Saturday.

Mrs. Mantell and a college friend, now Mrs. Barbara Holdridge of Baltimore, formed the record company 20 years ago with $1,500 and permission to record Dylan Thomas reading his own poetry.

In the 20 years since the company was founded, Mrs. Mantell, who is chairman, and her partner built a successful business by producing recordings of great poetry, speeches, plays, and dramatic literary works.

From their original agreement with Dylan Thomas, they have built a repertoire of more than 900 recordings featuring many of the great contemporary actors and actresses. The company is now a worldwide enterprise and its catalogue an integral part of the school curriculum. It was acquired in 1970 by D. C. Heath and Company, textbook publishing division of Raytheon.

Mrs. Mantell was cited by the Hunter College alumni group for her noteworthy contributions to education and the arts throughout the United States and around the world.

Mrs. Mantell is married to Harold Mantell, a documentary film producer. The couple has 4 children: Stephen, Michael, David, Eva.

Victoria Frances de Grazia of New York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred de Grazia, 16 Linden Lane, has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship for 1972-73.

The grant accompanying the fellowship will enable Miss de Grazia, a Ph.D. candidate at Columbia, to devote fulltime to her doctoral dissertation, "Social Organization of the Fascist Regime in Italy 1922-43."

A graduate of Princeton High School, Miss de Grazia graduated magna cum laude from Smith College in 1968. She received a Fulbright Scholarship for a year's study abroad in Italy in 1968-69, and was named a Faculty Fellow at Columbia University.

Alvin Schwartz, 50 Southern Way, an author of several books for young people, has written a book on "The Unions: What They Are, How They Came to Be, and How They Affect Us." Published last month by Viking Press.

The second book in a series on American institutions that began with Mr. Schwartz's "University," gives a complete picture to the young reader, aged 12 and up, of the history and current workings of the American Labor movement.

Mr. Schwartz has also provided a thoroughly revised edition of "Going Camping." A Complete Guide for the Uncertain Beginner in Family Camping," first published in 1969.

Timothy P. Roche of Princeton has been named President, and Chief Executive Officer of Childcraft Education Corp. He will also serve on the Board of Directors.

Before joining Childcraft, Mr. Roche was Vice President of Litton Educational Publishing, and Assistant Vice President of the McGraw Hill Book Co., where he concentrated his efforts in administration and corporate planning.

Dr. William G. Bowen, president-elect of Princeton University, will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from his alma mater, Denison University, at its 131st Commencement May 28.

A 1955 graduate, Dr. Bowen has served on Denison's Board of Trustees since 1966, and is currently second vice-chairman. He will become president of Princeton July 1.

Tom Tindall, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Tindall Jr., Line Road, West Windsor Township, has graduated from Embury Riddle Aeronautical University receiving a bachelor of science degree in aeronautical science. A graduate of Princeton High School, he is now employed as a pilot.

Arthur Lithgow, 51 Alexander Street, has been named Director of Project Development of New York's Circle in the Square.

Mr. Lithgow, who has resigned his post as Director of McCarter Theatre, will also serve as a consultant in a developing theatre arts program at the University of Massachusetts' new Boston campus.

Circle in the Square, one of off Broadway's oldest producing theatres, will move in September 1972 to its new 650-seat facility at Broadway and 50th St., where each year four important plays will be presented for three-month periods.

Mr. Lithgow, who provided professional theatre programs for school groups travelling from the N.J.-N.Y.-Pa. area to McCarter Theatre, will initiate a similar effort to bring youth to Broadway for specially arranged student matinees.

In addition, Mr. Lithgow will be working closely with the Director of the Circle in the Square Theatre School, Mary Kerney Levenstein, in educational extensions involving the enlarged youth program. Mrs. Levenstein lives in Pennington.

Dr. Rosenblatt Wins NYU "Great Teacher" Award

Dr. Louise M. Rosenblatt, 11 Cleveland Lane, has been named one of New York University's "Great Teachers." She received the $1,000 N.Y.U. Alumni Federation award that accompanies the honor at a convocation held last Thursday.

Dr. Rosenblatt has been a professor of English at N.Y.U. since 1948, and for the past 15 years had directed the university's doctoral program in English Education. She is the author of "Literature as Exploration" (published in England as well as in this country), of "Research Development in the Teaching of English" and numerous articles for professional journals. She is also co-author of several books on education and English, among them "Reading in an Age of Mass Communication."

She is retiring from N.Y.U., and next year will serve as visiting professor of education at Rutgers. Her husband, Dr. Sidney Ratner, is professor of history at Rutgers. The Ratners' son Jonathan is a doctoral student in economics at Yale.

Dr. Rosenblatt was graduated from Barnard in 1925, and taught English there from 1929 until 1938, when she joined the faculty of Brooklyn College. She remained there until accepting the N.Y.U. assignment in 1948.

She studied for several years in France, at the University of Grenoble and at the Sorbonne, and received her doctorate in contemporary literature from the University of Paris. Her book on "at for art's sake in England," written in French and published in France in 1931, is still the standard work on the subject.

Dr. Rosenblatt has acted as consultant on curriculum and literature to various state education departments and to the federal Office of Education. In 1970, she was named one of the Distinguished Lecturers by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Combined Effort Succeeds.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In an age when computers and technological efficiency tend to dehumanize us and disregard our real needs, it was refreshing and rewarding to be a part of last week's Township recycling flier mailing.

The flier was drawn up by the RESCUE MISSION, the Township officials and the Conservation Coalition. The Township printed five thousand of the fliers. The Coalition folded and stapled them. The Township paid for the mailing, and the Postmaster arranged for them to be delivered without addresses.

It was a remarkable gesture for the Post Office to make, and the Coalition, who has trod the weary (but rewarding) path of door-to-door leafletting twice already, is very grateful. Mr. Dilworth has our enthusiastic thanks.

To everyone who has helped with the program, the Coalition gives thanks. Those who contributed their time, efforts, energy and concern for this program are all an integral part of its inaugural.

As our modern society seeks new ways to grapple with the patterns of consumption and waste into which we have been locked for too long, this program will take its place as a first and important step.

Imagine the United States Post Office being a part of that step:

SUSANNA WATERMAN
Mrs. Stanton Waterman
Chairman, Conservation Coalition

Recycling Program Hailed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Waste not, want not, — see a penny, pick it up, etc., — or, as my mother would say, to my delight, "many a mickle make a muckle".

Many of us have become increasingly disturbed by the common, ordinary, automatic throw-away waste we find in our everyday lives. We pay for this waste many times over. First we buy it, as part of the "necessary" packaging needed for the sale of goods.

We pay a second time in the cost to the community for the disposal of this waste — air polluting incinerators and the price of landfill. (What is the value of an acre of land in this area?).

Thirdly, and perhaps most importantly, is the cost to our natural resources. Once these "throw-aways" are made, sold, burnt, or buried, the material from which they are made is gone forever.

The volunteer monthly recycling program conducted by the Conservation Coalition of Princeton brought outstanding response and support from about one thousand families in the community.

In spite of the nuisance of rinsing, sorting, flattening, and tying in bundles, there was still the agony of putting it all in the car and taking it to the collection center.

Curbside pick-up is SO MUCH EASIER! It does require a certain amount of work since we must still tie, flatten, rinse, and sort — (to say nothing of those DAMN metal rings) — but no more waiting in line on a warm spring Saturday morning.

I say "THREE CHEERS" for the Borough and the Township of Princeton for bringing about curbside pick-up of recyclables to every household in the community. Of course this is still a volunteer program.

However, everyone tidies his own house occasionally because it gets too messy otherwise. Our world is becoming a messy refuse heap and it's time for a little community housekeeping — and, at the same time, to pick up that penny.

Lecturer's Slides Found.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The many townspeople as well as University people who attended Sir Nikolaus Pevsner's Trask Lecture on "Victorian Mansions" at McCosh Hall on the evening of April 26 were no doubt puzzled and distressed by the lecturer's loss of his illustrative slides, despite which his presentation was felicitous, entertaining, informative, and extremely well received.

Few of those present knew that the loss of the slides had been discovered only fifteen minutes before the lecture was to start. They had vanished from Sir Nikolaus's briefcase, which he had left in the foyer of Prospect while he was entertained to dinner.

It will be of interest, therefore, to report here that the box of slides (many of which are unique and of inestimable scholarly value) was recovered later the same night, handed in to the Security Office, and eventually returned to Sir Nikolaus in New York, before his departure for London.

Shortly before midnight, two students walking through the grove of trees southwest of Prospect, along a path that leads toward Brown Hall, saw the box perched on a moonlit hillock a few feet off the walkway and rescued it.

Fortunately, neither box nor contents appear to have been damaged by the person unknown who, with an intention difficult to comprehend, had taken them from Professor Pevsner's briefcase.

Political Hijinks.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area is concerned about an interpretation of voting laws by Mercer County Clerk William Falcey which raises serious questions about the conduct of New Jersey elections.

Former Trenton Mayor Carmen Armenti, until recently a Democrat, is running in the June primary election for Mercer County freeholder as a Republican. The election laws of New Jersey state: "A voter who votes in a primary election of a political party shall be deemed to be a member of the party until two subsequent annual primary elections have elapsed after casting of such party primary vote."

Mr. Armenti has stated that he voted as a Democrat in last year's primary. Nevertheless, he was welcomed as a Republican by the county Republican Chairman, and his nominating petitions have been accepted by Mr. Falcey on the written opinion of County Counsel Harvey Stern that the election laws should be "liberally applied." Mr. Falcey stated that he has used the same "liberal interpretation" in deciding similar cases in the past, unknown to the public because the candidates involved were not public figures.

Mr. Armenti was required to sign an affidavit in which he swore that he is affiliated with the Republican party, voted for a majority of its candidates in the last general election, and will remain affiliated with it in the coming general election. Since general election votes are secret, this statement is of little value.

Such an oath will not be available to voters of this county who wish to "cross over" in the June primary. They are required to adhere strictly to the party affiliation law. Once declared, a voter may not change his political affiliation unless he refrains from voting in two consecutive primaries. We seem to have a double standard in election laws — one for political leaders, another for an ordinary voter.

Both political parties are in-

New Phone Booths Decried.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I acknowledge with despair the arrival of the state park aesthetic in Princeton. I refer, of course, to the abomination that functionally is a phone booth installed at the corner of Nassau Street and University Place. This structure is totally out of character with Princeton's main thoroughfare and is an affront to any artistically-sensitive person living or working in this community.

Rumor has it that more of involved in this case. Mr. Falcey and Mr. Stern are Democrats. In a suit brought by another Republican candidate for freeholder, Mr. Armenti and Mr. Falcey have been ordered to defend in court the placing of Mr. Armenti's name in the Republican column. Whatever the outcome of this suit, the citizens of Mercer County should be uneasy about the way their elections are run.

Since there is no state control of elections, each county can interpret election laws differently. The League of Women Voters of New Jersey believes that a State Department of Elections with a nonpartisan Commissioner of Elections is clearly needed, to assure uniform interpretation of voting laws and to end control of the administration of elections at the county level by the political parties.

Questions for Teachers.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

After reading the headline in a Trenton paper, "Princeton Teachers, Board at Odds Over Three Issues," it struck me that I had been seeing a number of similar headlines recently. The question needs to be asked, it would seem, are the Princeton teachers, in fact, in agreement with the issues that are being raised on their behalf?

Do the Princeton teachers suddenly find themselves at odds with sections of the by-laws of the Wednesday Program within a few weeks of having overwhelmingly approved them? Do the Princeton teachers really want grievance procedures instituted in their name when the result is the withdrawal of a promised sabatical to one of their colleagues? Is the collective will of Princeton teachers being served when, out of a projected staff reduction of ten teachers for 1972-73, only one program cut is being seriously questioned by P.R.E.A. leaders?

The implication inherent in the questions asked in the newspaper ad of April 20 is that Princeton teachers had no knowledge of what had been or was being done in the area of concerns listed. If the teachers, in fact, did not have such knowledge, they should have their own leaders.

As Chairman of the P.R.E.A. Negotiating Team last year, I know with certainty that the these enclosures are contemplated for use in Princeton. I hope that it is not too late for an alternative to this approach to be studied.

"Picturesque Prose" Refuted.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

In his letter appearing in the April 27 TOWN TOPICS, Professor Undank mounts a brief but simplistic foray into the recent history and philosophy of education, which ostensibly serves as a framework for dispensing with complex issues by means of rhetorical questions and predetermined answers.

I shall speak to two related subjects he associates directly with my name: budgetary restrictions and the teaching of foreign language in our elementary schools.

Contrary to his picturesque prose, we are hardly at the state of "slaves in chains," nor are we bordering on "poverty." But we have problems, even though, as Mrs. Van Pelt notes in the same issue of TOWN TOPICS, Princeton stands quite high in terms of national averages of per pupil expenditures.

One problem, for example, based on current predictions of state aid policy, is that we shall lose something like $440,000 per year. When West Windsor withdraws some 350 high school students in a year or so we shall no longer receive the tuition paid by this sending district.

Other factors could be mentioned, substantiating the fact that cuts have to be made which, in turn, means looking carefully at our overall program as well as each segment. The fact that individual jobs are involved makes this task especially painful.

With reference to teaching foreign language in the elementary schools, I raised the question of its educational validity. Does it make a sound contribution to a child's learning or does it amount to little more than reinforcing our Princeton pride and enable us to say, "we teach foreign language in our elementary schools."?

To begin with, I will not belabor the point that many parents have explicitly questioned the value of the foreign language program on an elementary level for their child(ren).

Further, ample studies can be cited which call into question the teaching of foreign language in the elementary school. The Coleman report, heavily utilized by Silberman in "Crisis in the Classroom," notes that language structures, during the elementary years, are much more influenced by home and peer environment than by the schools.

Professor Undank stresses the value of knowing a foreign culture, but neglects to mention that this is precisely the objective of the social studies program. In this regard, and to the best of my knowledge, a further weakness of our present language program is that it is not integrated with our elementary social studies units.

Educationally, language skills generally fall into the "knowledge" (or "recall") taxonomy, which happens to be one of the most fundamental forms of learning. Of course this form of learning is also the most easily programmed so that we could probably teach foreign language as efficiently, and more inexpensively, through the use of records or cassette tape recorders. This further takes into consideration the frequently heard observation that a child needs to develop his ear for language while he is young.

I shall not dwell on the commonly held view that a child generally learns a language more quickly than an adult, since this pertains to living in a foreign culture. The point at issue here is a program taught a few hours for a few days a week.

In a rather startling summary statement, Professor Undank declares, "Foreign language study frees and expands a consciousness otherwise trapped in the linguistic and cultural structure of perception and thought that any native language and culture enforce automatically."

This sounds fine for a high school student. But for an elementary student, it ignores what Piaget and others have substantiated rather conclusively: viz., formal operatory level functions do not begin in the average child until around the middle school years.

I hope this helps to clarify my own position and I shall continue with my concern: to evaluate all of our programs, whether or not money is tight, including the teaching of for-ign language to elementary school children.

OPEL 1900 RATED NO. 1

Why settle for less when Opel is No. 1.*

*The May issue of Car and Driver Magazine

The SCCA ran a comparison test of nine* showroom stock sedans last month on the Ontario Motor Speedway. All were standard versions, no performance options allowed. The results, after three days of testing, as reported in the May issue of Car and Driver Magazine:

"The Opel 1900 is a clear winner and it won big."

The report goes on to say, "Not only is it the quickest car, but it's almost the most silent and luxurious for street driving as well. At $2528 it costs more than some of the pure economy cars in the test, but it gives you plenty for the extra money . . . The 1900 is one of those cars that makes a middle-of-the-pack duffer feel like a pilot of consummate skill. All of the Opel's advantage can be attributed to superb handling and ease of driving."

Tiger Nine Still in Race for League Title

Having jumped from eighth to fourth place in the Eastern League standings last week, Princeton's baseball team will continue its last-ditch shot at the title Friday and Saturday on Clarke Field, Penn. will provide the opposition Friday at 4, with Navy here the following afternoon at 1 for a doubleheader.

Loss of three games in the early going has confronted the Tigers with the mathematical likelihood that one more defeat means elimination. In a ten-team race, it is probable that one entry will finish no worse than 11 and 3.

Five teams, in addition to the Orange and Black, currently have a chance to do so, although most of them still have games to play against the other contenders. Rain, too, will be a factor — of the teams which have not lost more than three games, all but Dartmouth were unable to play their full April schedules and make-ups will be extremely difficult to arrange. Penn., for example, concludes its regular season this weekend, graduates its seniors next week and still has doubleheaders with Navy, Brown and Cornell unplayed. Princeton will go into action Friday with a four-game win ning streak in league action to its credit. The Tigers took a pair from Yale at New Haven ten days ago, and last Saturday won both games from Columbia, 3-0 and 1-0. Inasmuch as doubleheaders have been restored to the league schedule only for the past three seasons, it would be more than 30 years since Princeton last won a twin bill without allowing the opposition a run.

Blevins, Coppedge Win. A pair of junior righthanders were Princeton's winning pitchers, Randy Blevins and Bill Coppedge each giving the Lions just two hits. Not the best team defensively, Columbia has a number of strong hitters in its lineup and blanking the Lions over 14 innings was quite an achievement.

Paul Kaliades, for example, was batting .450 in six league games but left here without having hit safely in either contest. The Lions' third baseman, he is the All-East linebacker whose field goal beat the Tigers at Baker Field last fall.

Two runs in the Princeton half of the opening inning gave Blevins a solid start. Tony Riposta's line shot to center brought Captain Bill Binder and Pete Korsan across the plate.

In the second, Jeff Davis walked, stole both second and third and rode home on John Davren's single to left. The visitors got runners on first and second in their final at bat but Blevins struck out two to end the mild threat.

Next to a no-hitter, pitchers dream of driving in the only run to win a ball game, and that was Bill Coppedge's good fortune in the nightcap. It matters not that the blow was a pop fly which fell just beyond the reach of a drawn-in infield — Coppedge got the hit that brought Riposta in from third, and no one else touched the plate.

The Tigers left a number of runners stranded in both games, often when a mere sacrifice fly would have scored them. But with Blevins and Coppedge pitching as well as they did, and the defense committing only one error in the two games, the afternoon was distinctly successful.

Earlier in the week, Fordham was a 9-5 victim of Princeton in New York. Senior Steve McLean raised his record to 2-1 and became the first Tiger hurler to go nine innings this year.

Binder's 380-foot home run, his second in less than a week, marked the steady Princeton attack. Sophomore first baseman Ken Beytin was the leading hitter with four hits in five at bats.

THIRD SHUTOUT WIN

As Tigers Blank Seton Hall. Two runs in the first inning were all sophomore Steve Crandall needed Monday as he blanked Seton Hall for Princeton. After yielding a hit in the opening round, he was in complete control, stretching the number of scoreless innings the Tigers have chalked up to 23.

Steve Loy, sophomore third baseman, walked to open the Princeton first and Captain Bill Binder doubled him home. After the Tiger catcher advanced to third, Pete Korsan scored him on a sacrifice fly.

That was it for the victors, who went down 19 times in a row before Seton Hall hurler Joe Flannery through the seventh inning. Three infield errors complicated Crandall's job but he preserved his 2-0 shutout to raise his record to 2-1.

Harvard won the Compton Cup for the tenth straight year Saturday, defeating M.I.T. and Princeton at Cambridge. bia on the University Courts Saturday ended Princeton's domination of the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Association. The Lions won, 6-3, handing the Orange and Black its first loss to an Ivy League team in the sport since 1969.

Princeton's lacrosse team was an 8-5 victim of Brown at Providence, and moves from the frying pan into the fire. Army was on the schedule for a Wednesday game here, with Ivy League champion Cornell (a 16-to-1 victor over Yale) here Saturday at 2:30.

SPEAGLE HAS NO-HITTER

As PHS Wins Three, Last week was the week that was for the Princeton High School baseball team.

On Monday afternoon, Bobby Speagle hurled a no-hitter against Princeton Day School and tossed in a home run for good measure as PHS routed the Panthers, 14-0.

On Friday, Lance Marshall blunted Hun's power hitting as the Little Tigers posted a convincing 3-1 victory over the Red and Black. That plus the PDS win gave PHS the Princeton championship.

The week began last Wednesday when sophomore John Mooney hurled exceptional ball, needing only 86 pitches to stop Cathedral, 13-2. Cathedral had beaten the Blue and White earlier, 92. Until Mooney broke the string, PHS had lost its first six in a row.

Notre Dame Thursday, PHS, relaxed and hitting, will try to add a few more notches to its belt when it plays host to Notre Dame Thursday at 3:45. It will be at Steinert next Tuesday.

PHS rapped 12 hits off Princeton Day's John Boyd, three of them by Greg Kline. The Little Tigers scored four in the third on a walk, two singles and Kent Bain's double. It added six more in the next inning, combining four hits and three Panther errors. John Moran, up twice in the inning, singled both times.

The final two runs came when Speagle drove home Tom Gopsil, who had walked, with a home run over the leftfielder's head. Speagle struck out five and walked five. He ended it by getting Tim Thomas to hit into a double play. PHS is 3-3-1. It was Boyd's third loss against two wins.

"A home run and a no-hitter . . . he'll remember this game for along time to come," said PHS coach Harry Zoll of Speagle's achievement.

Marshall Too Strong. Marshall was just too strong on the mound for PHS against Hun. Aside from the first inning when Hun scored its only run on a single and double, the losers never threatened. Marshall gave up only three hits thereafter and retired Hun in order in the last two innings.

PHS collected only four hits off Hun hurler Paul Creamer. It tied the game 1-1 in the second when Moran doubled home Dudley Woodbridge who had singled. It scored the winning run in the third.

After two were out, Kline walked and stole second. PHS catcher Bob Zinsmeister laid a perfect two-out bunt down third and Kline scored all the way on the wild throw to first base. PHS picked up an un-

McCandless Breaks Leg in Fall from Horse

Dr. Joseph Zawadsky, a New Brunswick orthopedic surgeon, pinned the fracture in an operation on Monday at St. Peter's Hospital. Zawadsky, who played guard on the unbeaten Princeton teams of the early '50s, was a teammate of the Princeton coach. He has performed knee operations on several Princeton players in recent years.

The accident to McCandless happened while he was riding a horse on the farm where he and his family live near Lambertville. The Tiger coach will be on crutches for a number of weeks following his discharge from the hospital.

earned insurance run in the fifth without a hit when the Hun defense was guilty of three errors.

"That's number two. It feels good," a happy Zoll told his players after the game.

Every member in the PHS lineup had at least one hit in the Cathedral game. PHS scored six runs in the first inning.

Ray Richards was the batting standout, collecting two doubles, a single and driving in three runs. Zinsmeister had three singles.

In addition to his fine mound performance, Mooney also drove in a pair of runs. He struck out five Gael batters. Also driving in two runs were Woodbridge and Tom Gopsil, whose game-winning pinch-hit grand slam in the last inning against Ewing was the high spot of the PHS season last year.

ADD TWO MORE

To PHS Tennis String. The Princeton High School tennis team, unbeaten in its first seven starts this season, methodically cut down two more opponents last week, defeating East Brunswick Thursday, 4-1, and Hopewell Valley earlier, 5-0.

Coach Bill Humes' netmen will play four matches next week against South Brunswick, Trenton High School, Peddie and Lawrence. The first two are at home.

Singles players Michel Glouchevitch, Danny Thompson and Bill Schmidt were never extended in either match as was the doubles pairing of Randy Thomas and Dick Broad. The lone casualty in the East Brunswick match was the doubles team of George Barna and Robby McDougald.

TRENTON EDGES PHS

In Final Track Event. For the second time in two years, the outcome of the Princeton High School-Trenton track meet rested on the final event. Entering the high jump, the meet could have gone either way. But the best PHS could do was a third by Bill Wilson and the Little Tigers went down to their fifth dual meet setback in six starts, 69½ to 61½. "It was a good meet," said coach Larry Ivan. "If we had all our guys (Peter Foltiny and Tom Snow were out sick and Don Owens failed to appear) I think we could have won it."

Add the cold—"So cold the starters were wearing gloves"—and Ivan could add with feeling. "The kids that were there did a fantastic job."

Ahead are meets with newcomer St. Thomas Aquinas on Monday and Hopewell Valley on Wednesday. Both are away. The Long Branch Relays are Saturday. The scheduled meet at New Brunswick last week was cancelled because of racial disturbances at the school.

11 Points for Woodside: Steve Woodside contributed 11 points in the Trenton meet, winning the 100 in 10.5, the pole vault with a jump of 10-6 and taking third in the 220. Commenting on Woodside's triumph in the 100, Ivan said: "We haven't done that in a long time against Trenton."

Mark McLean, freshman, took third in the vault with a 10-0 effort.

Other first-place achievements for PHS: Mike Coda in the half-mile (2:09), Bill Alexander in the shot (47-0), Dave Cowans in the discus (117-6) his first; Richard Guzy in the javelin (138-11) and Lionel Hammond in the long jump—17-10½ on his last jump. Hammond took a second in the low hurdles.

Louis Drury, Tom Green and David Gilbert captured seconds in the shot, disc and javelin. Peter Nichols and John Woodside finished second and third in the two-mile event.

Fighting a strong wind, Rol and Smith won the mile for PHS with a clocking of 4:51.

the Hun baseball team 1 a s t week. Hun is currently 5-2.

A busy week lies ahead. Hun will entertain Pingry Friday at 3:15, and travel to Admiral Farragut Saturday, Perkiomen Monday and Pennington School Wednesday. The Perkiomen contest is a make-up of the April 7 opener which was rained out.

Hun hunched five of its eight hits in the second inning to score eight runs en route to a 11-2 shellacking Saturday of Lawrenceville School. Dave Hock who fanned seven and yielded seven hits went the distance for Hun to get the win. He is 1-0.

Dennis Skrajewski and Pete Jones each had two hits for Hun. Skrajewski's two-run single was one of the damaging blows in the second-inning outburst.

Paul Creamer, who pitched all the way, took the loss to Princeton High School. Hun's only run came in the first when Skrajewski doubled home Jones who had singled. Creamer gave up just four hits but he was the victim of some shabby play — unusual for Hun — in the field.

"We didn't play a bad ball game but we didn't play that good either," commented Hun coach Bill McQuade. "we out-hit them . . . and out-errored them. It was a good game. They're one-up in the series." (This is McQuade's first year as head coach at Hun.)

Earlier, Hun raked Princeton Day School pitching for 12 hits, including a home run and double by first baseman Chuck Sista as Hun demolished its crosstown rival, 14-2. PDS contributed to the rout by committing eight errors.

Jones and Skrajewski each had two hits. Skrajewski was the winning pitcher.

PDS NIPS HUN, 2-2

In Tennis, Princeton Day School tennis team passed its first real test of the season Friday, dropping the first and second singles matches to Hun, but coming back to win the team match 3-2 and remain undefeated.

Steve Bash lost his second match in two years of team competition to Chris Lilly, 7-6, 6-2 in the number one match. Hun's Dick Sword took the first set from Jerem Gordon 6-1 in second singles. Gordon scrambled back to take the second set 6-4, but lost the rubber set and match 6-3.

Buzz Woodworth defeated Jeff Hombarger 6-4, 6-1 in third singles. Evan and Greg Bash, playing first doubles, trounced Mike Waloun and Ron Sutherland 6-1, 6-1 and second doubles team David Straut and Chris Miller wrapped it up for PDS with a 6-1, 6-7, 6-2 win over Lee Morris and Neil Skorjak.

Friday the Panthers will meet Germantown at home at 3. They were scheduled to play George School at home this Wednesday.

PDS SPLITS PAIR

In Lacrosse, The Princeton Day School lacrosse team went from one extreme to another in back-to-back games last week: Wednesday they romped over Rutgers Prep 12-3 and Thursday they were trounced by Princeton High School 8-0.

Goals in Wednesday's game included a hat trick by attackman Dirk Gleysteen, a pair by middle John Moore, and goals by Ricky Gordon, John Gordon, David Barach, Grayson and Giff Ferrante and Tim Hamid. The score was 9-0 at half time, coach Chuoh Simpson used the last half to give his freshmen game experience.

The Little Tigers pounced on the Panthers from the start and controlled the entire game in the shutout Thursday. PHS scored in every period in the one-sided win.

PDS plays a return match against George School at home Friday. George won the first of the home and home 9-5.

PHS STICKMEN SPLIT

Defeat PDS, 8-0. The Princeton High School lacrosse team lost to Clifton Saturday, 12-2, and defeated Princeton Day School Thursday, 8-0, for a current 3-5-1 record. Both contests were played at Community Park field.

Coach Marvin Trotman's squad will be idle until next Wednesday when it will play Peddie here at Community Park, starting at 2. It was scheduled to meet Hun this Wednesday afternoon.

Coming on the heels of the big win over PDS, the loss to Clifton, which has been engaged in the sport for only a few years, was a surprise.

Little League Tryouts

Princeton Little League baseball will hold tryouts for all new boys 9-12 at Grover Park Field (next to the Princeton Shopping Center) on Sunday and next Saturday (May 13) at 9. If either day is rained out, the rain date will be May 14, same time and location. Each boy should bring his own glove, if possible.

Every boy who tries out will be assigned to one of the eight teams. An expanded schedule will insure more game time for every player.

Regular league play will begin June 6 and continue through July 25. To be eligible, boys must have been born before Aug. 1, 1963 and after July 31, 1959. Additional information is available from Bernard Miller, 924-2585.

"We were lackadaisical; we just didn't play," said Trotman. With some relatively weaker teams coming up, Trotman added, "I thought we had a good chance to put four or five together."

Steve Stone and Brooks

Mohrmann scored the two Little Tiger goals.

One of Those Days. Lopsided scores like the 8-0 win over rival PDS have been rare indeed for PHS.

"It's been so long," agreed Trotman, relishing it from the sideline. "It's one of those days when everything you do turns out right. It's tremendous."

Joe McGuinn led the attack scoring three goals. He had four assists. Mohrmann added three and co-captain Steve Stone and Jimmy Bolster one each. Stone was credited with two assists. After taking a 1-0 lead in the first period, PHS broke it open with four goals in the second.

Bolster's debut was one to remember. Playing in his first varsity game, he scored three seconds after he went in for the first time. "He scored from the crease on a beautiful pass from McGuinn," said Trotman. "We really moved the ball around today. The whole team was tremendous."

coach of field events for Princeton University's track team. Director of Athletics R. Kenneth Fairman has announced that Weiss will be succeeded by 29-year old Richard J. Robinson, currently coach of cross country and track at Sacred Heart High School in Yonkers.

Formerly assistant director of physical education in the Princeton Public Schools and for more than 25 years a collegiate football official, Weiss led his track teams at Princeton High to a record of 110 consecutive victories and five state championships. Later, as a coach of field events at Lawrenceville, he helped to guide the Larries to the state title and to that school's only win to date over a Princeton University freshman squad.

On the international scene, Weiss was weight coach for the U.S. decathlon entries in the 1963 Pan American Games at Sao Paulo, Brazil, served as international coach at the 1965 Maccabiah Games, and coached the jumpers on the 1969 U.S. National Team which defeated the British and Russian units.

Honored by his state colleagues with selection in 1971 as New Jersey Track Coach of the Year, Weiss was cited at the March, 1972 ICAAAA Indoor Meet in Jadwin Gym by that organization's Coaches' Association for "devotion to the development of track and field competition, faithfulness to its ideals, and outstanding adherence to the principles of good sportsmanship". Weiss has coached numerous record-setters at Princeton. Currently, 13 of the University's 14 records in field events were established by his proteges.

POLICE GAIN FINALS

In State PBA Tourney. The Princeton PBA 130 basketball team defeated the Irvington PBA quintet Friday in Jadwin Gym, 94-53, to advance to the finals of the state Patrolmen's Benevolent Association tournament. The win was the victors' third in a row.

High scorers for Princeton were Thomas Michaud and Robert Mucciarelli of the Borough police with 23 and 21 points. Joe Mazotas of the West Windsor department had 12.

Others: Jerry Offredo and Barry Hibbs, 8 each; Norbert Nielson, 7; Cliff Mauer, 5; Kerry Klink and Dave Cromwell, 4 each; and Bill Potts, 2. Irvington's Bob Baker led all scorers with 27.

RANOCAS VALLEY NEXT

Junior Olympics Saturday

The second annual junior olympic competition will be held Saturday morning at the Princeton High School field, starting at 9.

The Princeton Recreation Department, which conducts the program here, expects more than 400 participants this year. Youngsters will compete in 36 track and field events in three age categories, ranging from 9 to 14. Complete information is available from the Recreation Department, 921-9480.

PHS Golf Team in State Tournament

Spring sports have been a losing proposition at Princeton High School with the exception of tennis. Another exception has been the Little Tiger golf team which last week qualified for the state tournament with a 12-6 victory over Notre Dame.

PHS is undefeated in five matches with county schools. Its only setback this season has been to Pennshury.

Members of the team are Frank Steifel, captain; John Gianacaci, Foster Schoch, Gil Spencer, Chris Aldridge and Tony Iacono. The Jack Nicklaus of the squad is Gianacaci. Against Notre Dame, he shot 37—two over par. Notre Dame is considered to be the Little Tigers' biggest competition for county honors.

All home matches are played at the Princeton Country Club on Route 1. Points are awarded for the first four holes, the last five and overall. Dan McGuire is the coach.

play host to New Brunswick. The Long Branch Relays are Saturday.

A squad from PHS went to the Penn Relays Saturday to compete in the 440-yard relay event but failed to qualify.

SEMI-FINALS SATURDAY

In Springdale Tournament. It will be Kester Pierson, the defending champion, against Bob Shillaber, and Norm Schuele, Jr. against Bill Millman Saturday in the semi-final round of the President's Cup tournament at Springdale Golf Club. Each won two matches last weekend to become one of the four survivors out of an initial field of 32.

Competition is based on full handicaps. Winners of the Saturday matches will meet in an 18-hole final Sunday.

Pierson advanced with a 2-and-1 triumph over Peter Budd and a 3-and-2 triumph over Dick Judge, after the latter had eliminated Dean Chace, 3 and 2. Shillaber won from Ed Johnson on the 19th green before defeating Jack Petrone, 3 and 2. Petrone won Saturday from Jack Sweeney, 1 up.

Schuele reached the semi-finals by edging Bob Gallagher on the first extra hole and then winning by the same margin on the 18th green over John Miller. Miller was a 2-and-1 victor over Don Shaw.

Millman conquered Paul Erler, 2 and 1, and then won, 1 up, from Oliver Houghton. Houghton had eliminated Jack Mudge on Saturday, 3 and 2.

FREE TRIAL PERIOD SET

For Competitive Swim Program. A free, one-week trial for the competitive swim program at the Community Park pool has been announced by the Princeton Recreation Department.

Work-outs will start Monday and continue daily through the week, and will be free to all swimmers who are interested in competitive swimming, regardless of age or skill. Bill Farley, swimming coach at Princeton University, and coach of the newly-formed Princeton Aquatic Association, will be in charge of the work-outs. They will be held from 4-5:30 daily.

Regular work-outs for the summer competitive swimming season will start the following Monday, May 15, and continue through August. The Princeton Aquatic Association, affiliated with the Amateur Athletic Union, an organization of local swimmers, parents, coaches, and other citizens interested in promoting a strong team from the Princeton area, will assist the Recreation Commission in carrying out the summer program. According to Beverly Sweetman, president of the Association, the group also hopes to initiate a winter program as well.

The purpose of the program, according to Mrs. Sweetman, is "to provide a high-level competitive program with sufficient pool time and superior coaching. The goal," she added, "is to build a strong team over a period of years. The Association especially seeks younger members, although membership is open to swimmers of all ages."

Work-outs for the summer competitive season will be held twice a day after school ends in June. Between May 15 and the close of school, swimmers will work out once a day, in the afternoons. The double work-out schedule will be from 7-9 p.m., and from 6:30-8 p.m. This schedule will continue through state and regional meets, the Olympic Trials, and the Nationals. The Princeton Aquatic Association expects to send swimmers to all these meets.

For residents of the Borough and Township, the charge for these work-outs will be $25 per month for the first member of a family, and $12.50 for the second. For out-of-town members, charges will be $40 and $20.

For further information and application forms, call or write the Princeton Recreation Commission, 921-9480, Township Hall.

Johnston Family Produces Prize-Winning Films in Valley Road Studio

A giant Moviola editing machine occupies one corner of a Valley Road living-room, opposite the projection machine and the long shelf of medals, prizes, awards and citations for excellence in film-making. Hugh and Suzanne Johnston, Inc. live, work, create, raise their three daughters, feed the cat and the guinea-pigs and keep supremely ahead in the highly-competitive business of film-making — all in a modest house in the woods at 16 Valley Road in Princeton.

No zoning problems exist with Princeton Township because the Johnstons have no employees. And, like authors, they are simply people who work at home.

Educational films and films for public TV are the Johnstons' specialties. All photography is done on location, "in the real world with real people," as Hugh says.

Whether it's in Mexico filming "The Mystery of the Maya," on the Princeton University campus capturing the essence of contemporary sculpture on film, or on a farm near Princeton filming cows for a Sesame Street feature on milk, it's the real world.

Action Begins at Home. Because the Johnstons weave their life so seamlessly with

ON CAMERA: Suzanne and Hugh Johnston with "Floating Figure," the Gaston Lachaise sculpture in Compton Court at the Graduate College of the University. Interviews with sculptors Jacques Lipschitz and Tony Smith, and views of the University's Putman Collection sculpture taken in all seasons and all kinds of weather, will be incorporated into the Johnston's forthcoming film on the campus figures. The film was commissioned by the New Jersey Public Broadcasting Authority and will be shown on Channel 52. Helping the Johnstons hold that ladder is Jason Eyster.

University — 40 per cent of the students had never seen an animal birth."

Soundlessly, graphically, the camera follows Bootie in her restless pacing before the birth, then zooms in for close-ups of the actual appearance of the kitten and, dramatically, shows the first tiny bubble of breath and life that emerges from the kitten's mouth.

With a sequel, "Kittens Grow Up," "Kittens Are Born" is a pilot, steering the Johnstons into films for educational distribution.

It was a Johnston film, "Where Milk Comes From," that was on the first Sesame Street program; in fact, the Johnstons were involved in the original research that led to Sesame Street.

A Film for Teachers. Another film, "educational" in the strictest sense of the word, is "Teachers Make a Difference," made for the New Jersey Education Association to show what innovative teachers can do in the profession.

"Film stock, lab charges and recording charges are high," Hugh explains, "so we try to find funds where we can, putting various ones together — N.J.E.A. money, O.E.O. money and so on. You have to be promoters and salesmen in the business, as well as creative film-makers."

"Parents Are Teachers, Too" won the Chris Statuette Award ("it's like an Oscar"). It was made for showing to parents of children in Head Start programs.

Another film with Head Start involvement is "A Different Childhood," filmed in Trenton in 1966-67 with O.E.O. money.

"It was a searing experience, making that film," Suzanne recalls, "it is a lower-depths study of poverty and we chose a white child to emphasize that the issue was poverty, and not race. We've found that black audiences deeply appreciate this."

Suzanne spent three whole days with the mother in this film, gaining her confidence and her interest in the project. In filming, the Johnstons used about one foot of film for every 15 feet they shot. "You wait for the true moments to reveal themselves," they comment.

Background. "Cinema verite" without scripts, isn't the Johnstons' style. They structure their films, and Suzanne does much of the writing before filming actually begins. Both she and Hugh have journalism backgrounds, as senior editors of "Industrial Design."

OTHER PAPERS will run your classifieds for half price, or for nothing if they do not sell. In TOWN TOPICS, you'll find more ads and better results.

control the making of the film, especially the editing. So Hugh learned film-making and for the past seven years, they have been their own independent producing company.

"Every film we've made has won an award," says Suzanne in a matter-of-fact voice. "We've made about 30 in these seven years."

After a script has been shot, the Johnstons move into their living-editing room, with its pleasant view past the bird feeder toward Valley Rd.

The Moviola, the editing machine, can handle separate sound tracks, which means the editor can do "creative mixing." Actual mixing of all the tracks is done in the Hagens Recording Studio on Lower Harrison Street.

Currently, the Johnstons have several projects going. They are filming the sculpture on Princeton's campus, working with the University's Gillett Griffin on the Mayan film (he served as an advisor for their Eastern Air Lines "Viva Mexico!"), planning to complete "Eskimo Spring," for which Hugh photographed the bow-head whale bearded seals and polar bears near Pt. Barrow, Alaska and a film on barn owls which they're filming around Griggstown.

In this business, one is constantly encountering a wide variety of subjects," is Hugh's observation. "You must learn everything there is to know on the subject, and your curiosity is constantly challenged. I would say that we can deal creatively with almost any subject."

their work, "location" often means the Johnston living-room. "Kittens Are Born," for example, stars Bootie, the Johnston cat, who graciously brought forth a litter in front of Hugh's camera and now purrs with pleasure as the praise and the awards for that film roll in.

"We found no films in the education catalog showing birth in a sensitive and yet graphic way," Suzanne explains. "We filmed the births graphically, then edited the film so it can be shown to any age. We showed it to a student audience at Princeton

FIGURES SHOW DROP

In First Quarter Index. Reflecting the usual seasonal pattern, the figures in the TOWN TOPICS business index for the first quarter of 1972 have fallen off from the levels achieved in the fourth quarter of 1971. Compared with the first quarter a year ago, however, the latest figures are able to generate more plus signs.

Savings are up 12 percent over last year, checking and saving accounts, 8 percent, and loans 14 percent, continuing a period of virtually uninterrupted growth for the town's financial institutions.

Savings and loans also advanced from last quarter, but checking accounts are down, following a pattern that has rarely changed. Checking accounts always show a drop in this quarter after the payment of Christmas bills and income tax.

Postal receipts and parking meter receipts likewise show a decrease from the pre-Christmas activity, dropping 6 and 7 percent respectively. Both show healthy increases over last year.

Construction activity around town also dropped during the winter months. No new houses were started in the Borough, where open lots are scarce, and only one in the Township. Building permits and their value also fell in both municipalities.

New car sales sagged to a low level, 13 percent below the preceding quarter and 14 percent below last year. The second quarter should show an upturn.

PAR SHOWS GAIN

In First Quarter Results. Princeton Applied Research Corporation, which saw its net sales rise by 20 percent, has reported net income on operations of $15,000 or three cents a share for the first quarter of this year.

The company had a loss of $10,000 or two cents a share for the corresponding quarter last year.

An extraordinary income item of $27,800 resulted from the sale of the company's old facilities in Montgomery Township, and was equal to five cents a share.

Slightly more than one half of the reported net operating income was a result of deferred tax treatment on the income of Princeton Applied Research Corporation (International) as permitted under the Revenue Act of 1971 for a Domestic International Sales Corporation (DISC). SSR Instruments Company produced a small loss on their operations for the quarter and operations of Princeton Metal Systems Corporation are not included because closing under the purchase agreement has not as yet taken place. Closing is expected to take place within the next ten days.

New order bookings for the quarter were 9% above new order bookings for the comparable period last year. Domestic and foreign orders tracked the overall increase proportionately and foreign business continues to account for about 40% of the total. All of the Company's exports now pass through PAR International.

NET INCOME RISES

At Princeton American Bancorp. Primary net operating income for Princeton American Bancorp's first quarter of this year rose to $1,109,817 or 43 cents a share from $936,251 or 42 cents a share for 1971, before securities gains or losses.

Primary net income after

securities losses for the first quarter of 1972 was $1,095,554 or 0.43 per share compared to $955,175 or $0.43 per share after securities gains for 1971.

James D. Elleman, chairman and William R. Cosby, vice chairman, commented that in the face of similar adverse factors to those which caused a decline in 1971 earnings, they are pleased with the results of the first quarter. If current customer interest in such new services as those offered by Princeton American Leasecorp stays strong and loan demand continues to improve, they expressed hope that earnings for the entire year 1972 will be ahead of 1971.

Total resources of Princeton American stood at $510,295,000 on March 31, 1972 compared to $477,306,000 pro forma a year ago. Total deposits were $436,350,000 an increase of 23,572,000 from the pro forma deposits of March 31, 1972.

In an important step taken by the Board of Directors, it was noted by Mr. Elleman that Princeton American intends to repurchase for its Treasury up to 50,000 shares of its Common Stock, within the guidelines of the Securities and Exchange Commission, during the next twelve months, for general corporate purposes including the covering of stock options.

Also planned is a program to enable shareholders to invest their dividends in Common Stock of the Corporation. At the same time, a Monthly Investment Plan, which allows employees to purchase a fixed dollar amount of common stock from their pay, was extended to all employees of the holding corporation.

With regard to expansion of Princeton American's banking operations, Mr. Elleman announced plans to concentrate the holding company's banking activities in regions similar to those now occupied in Essex, Mercer, Morris, Sussex and Warren Counties making the bank's system one of the most favorably located in the State.

In the order of business, the following directors were re-elected: Mark J. Anton, George W. Conover, William R. Cosby, E. Newton Cutler, Jr., James D. Elleman, Roger B. Etherington, S. Barksdale Penick, Jr., William J. Shepherd, Al-bridge C. Smith, 3rd, Charles Barnwell Straut and Edward L.C. Vogt.

Sports In Princeton

ST. JOHN'S WINS ONE

First Time in Five Years. St. John's University plays the best baseball of any team in the state, but until Tuesday, it had lost to Princeton each year since 1967. This week, the Redmen eked out 4-3 triumph on Clarke Field to raise their record to 17-3.

To give it their best shot, the visitors started Marty Dwonarski, a southpaw who was unbeaten in four starts. As matters turned out, he needed relief, the Tigers rallying from a 4-1 deficit with two in the eighth.

Ralph Stanley, sophomore center fielder; Pete Korse, who flanked him in right; and Ken Beytin, the big sophomore tackle turned first baseman, drove in the Princeton runs. Steve McLean was the loser, yielding seven hits, three of them doubles—all of the extra-base blows figuring in the St. John's scoring.

A replay of the rained-out April 15 game with Harvard was scheduled for Wednesday of this week—the Crimson's trip from Cambridge hanging on the weather.

ANOTHER WIRE FINISH

PHS Trackmen Lose Again. For the third consecutive time, the Princeton High School track team was engaged in a dual meet that went right down to the wire. This time it was against visiting Notre Dame on Tuesday and for the third time the Little Tigers (1-6) lost out. Final score was 69-62.

When Bill Wilson and Jim Willard of PHS finished in a rare three-way tie with Notre Dame's Walt Morrissey for first place in the high jump at 5-6, PHS gained six points and a 57-56 lead.

Two events, the javelin and long jump remained. But when Ed Schrader captured second place on his last throw for the Irish, PHS coach Larry Ivan who had been busier than a computer figuring all the possible finishes said, "That did it." Schrader's toss gave the Irish a sweep.

Still a sweep by PHS in the long jump would bring a one-point PHS win. Lionel Hammond took first with a jump of 19-8 but that was all for the Little Tigers.

Craig Carlton won both the low and high hurdle events with times of 21.8 and 16.6. Pete Nichols won the mile (4:55.4), Hammond the 440 (54.4), Bill Alexander the shot (47-23½) and Steve Woodside the pole vault (10-0). Seconds: Mike Coda in the 880, Roland Smith in the two-mile, Mark McLean in the vault and Hammond in the 220.

Ivan called the mile relay the key. Winner gets five points, losers nothing, and it means a swing of 10 points in both scores. "We would have been home free if we had won the relay," said Ivan.

GIBSON WINS SAILING

In Carnegie Club Races, Walt Gibson finished first Sunday in races staged on the lake by the Carnegie Sailing Club, using his cumulative total to advance to fourth place in the season's standings.

John Hopfield took the last two races, good for second place, with Bob Holzman retaining his lead in the spring series. Others who placed during the afternoon were Tom Huntington, Ed Metcalf and Dick Hill.

BOWLING NOTES

Dutch Neck Wins 2nd Half. Dutch Neck captured the second half of the Tri-County Firemen's League last week on the strength of Dick Anderson's final game of 245. In the final standings, Dutch Neck finished one ahead of Lawrenceville, 60-59, and three ahead of Belle Mead.

It will play a three-game roll-off with KFD, winner of the first half, to determine the league champion.

Anderson had earlier games of 203-177 to finish with a 625 series. Teammates Mel Tindall, Charles Appleget and Earl McKnight had 212, 195, 191.

Dutch Neck began the final night with a half-game edge over Belle Mead and Lawrenceville. After two games each had split—it was a bumper night—so the board in effect hadn't moved. That left it all riding on the last game.

Mike Duvan was high for Lawrenceville with 233, while Fred Louie and Art Parr had 199s for Belle Mead.

Charles Voorhees and Frank Delneso, both of Sherwin Williams in the A League, fashioned the high series and high single game. Voorhees rolled 215-214-222 for 651, while Delneso had 230. Mike Penelli and Tony Cifelli had 224 and 218.

Between 210 and 200: John Baldino, Jim Carter, Angelo Tamasi, Les Gibbs, Bob King, Hal Frazee, Bill Whitley, Tony Baldino and Bill Murphy. Rialto Barber Shop and Princeton Market are tied for the lead at 54 each. Lucar Hardware and Sherwin Williams are two back at 52 apiece.

There were twenty-one 200 games in the Nassau League, highest of which was Mario Pirone's 234. Jim Shely and Al Bernard had 232 and 230. Jim Carter of Hinds had three of them, rolling 205-202-201 for 608. Between 221 and 201 were Bob King, Bud Bosley, Ernie Hunt, Vince Tufano, Val Rinallo, Homer Hill, Burt Davis, George Luck, Ed Rowcat-sky, Sal DiMeglio, Pros Aesch-bacher, Joe Procaccini, Bill Whitley, Albert Petrella and Tony Gaylord.

Tiger Garage has already clinched the second half crown in the Nassau League.

Carousel's Jean Bucci was high in the Women's League with 202. Louise Fugill of Rocky Hill Inn was 67 pins over average in fashioning a 199.

Didi Waltman had 177, Caroline McDonald 176, Beverly Kiss 175, and Eleanor Pinelli, 173.

Nassau Conover has a 62-60 margin over Rocky Hill Inn for first place in the standings.

The entry submitted by the Princeton students received a Blue Ribbon for the best entry in its category and another Blue Ribbon for having a superior exhibit at the fair.

For their winning entry in the Jerseyman's State History Fair, the three students mounted and showed pictures of the dig and reassembled pieces of Staffordshire, Sandwich glass, Chinese export porcelain and salt glazed stoneware that were found at the dig, the site of the new addition to Firestone Library. There is also a copy of a bill dated September 27, 1769 from the Hudibras Tavern to Princeton University for a gathering.

Because of interest in this prize winning exhibit, it has been reassembled at the Historical Society of Princeton's headquarters, Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau Street, which is open weekdays from 10-4, Saturdays from 1-3 and Sundays from 2-4.

These three students also won two Blue Ribbons last year at the Jerseyman's State History Fair for facsimile wooden models they had hand-crafted of several houses in Princeton. The trio will be formally recognized for their exhibit on the Hudibras Tavern Dig at the Jerseyman's Annual Convention, which will be held in Mantoloking on April 28-30.

VOLUNTEER HELP NEEDED

By Township Wildlife Refuge. The Princeton Township Wildlife Refuge needs volunteer help in its program of mosquito control. Anyone interested in ecology, the environment and the natural sciences is invited to help.

This spring and summer the Friends of the Princeton Wildlife Refuge will conduct mosquito larvae surveys every ten days to two weeks. The results of these surveys will be used to help control the mosquito population and help maintain an orderly environment within the Refuge and adjoining areas.

Expert instruction will be provided in the identification of the many and various mosquito larva species which are found in this area.

In addition to volunteers for the mosquito survey project, those interested in helping conduct a biological survey of the Refuge area and changes which take place as a result of water level, weather changes and other influences, are also asked to volunteer.

Anyone interested in participating in the mosquito program or the biological survey should call Tom Poole, Chairman of the Friends of the Princeton Wildlife Refuge, at (609) 924-2271.

News Of The CHURCHES

IONA FOUNDER TO SPEAK
In University Mission Series. "A Blast of the Spirit" is the topic of a Princeton University mission that begins this Sunday in the chapel chancel. The speaker will be the Very Rev. Sir George F. MacLeod, Lord of Fuinary, a founder of Scotland's Iona Community.

The nightly programs begin at 8 p.m. Focus of the mission, according to Rev. Charles P. Henderson, assistant dean of the Chapel, will be "interpreting the recent enthusiastic movement in Christianity and relating it to the current political situation and Lord MacLeod's own involvement in the pacifist movement, as well as the new challenge for evangelism."

After the opening program on Sunday, the talks on succeeding nights will center, respectively, on political issues, pacifism, the challenge posed to individual Christians on a personal level and conclude on Thursday with the theme of Pentecost.

Lord MacLeod, now 76, describes himself as "an uncomfortable socialist and a reluctant pacifist." In 1938 he left the Govan Old Parish Church in Scotland and together with a group of young ministers and laymen — the nucleus of the Iona Community — began to rebuild the abbey monastery buildings on the island of Iona. The community now accommodates some 80 young men and women weekly during the summers for study and discussion. It operates a community house in Glasgow where youth are trained for inner city service.

He has been moderator of the general assembly of the Church of Scotland and was first holder of the Fosdick Professorship at Union Seminary, New York City. A graduate of Oriel College and Edinburgh University, he has served parish churches, a military chaplaincy, college professorships and as a missionary in lumber camps. He is the author of four books on religious themes.

FREEDOM IS TOPIC

Of Christian Scientist, John R. Kenyon of London, England, will give a public lecture "The Liberating Protests of Truth," at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn. He speaks at the invitation of First Church of Christ Scientist, Bayard Lane.

A Christian Science teacher and a member of the denomination's board of lectureship, Mr. Kenyon will discuss a spiritual basis for freedom from fear, racial tension and other current problems. Miss Betty Jo Hunt, second reader of the church will introduce him. Mrs. Carol Springer is in charge of arrangements. The lecture is free.

Mr. Kenyon is a graduate of Cambridge University. He was a chartered accountant and a senior executive in a large group of investment trusts. For more than 20 years, he has served full time as a healing minister of Christian Science. He became a practitioner of Christian Science in 1950 and a teacher of Christian Science in 1958.

ONE LOOK

at this almost new two story home with contemporary overtones will tell you that the proud owners planned to live here for longer than the single year his company stay allowed. Imaginative landscaping, Japanese inspired, with dwarf pines, specimen shrubs and topiary trees set off by large rocks and small pebbles, daffodils and tulips in carefully tended garden beds blooming away as though they had been there forever—and above all, the huge old trees that graced the former estate part of whose grounds this was.

Within, you will rejoice in a feeling of light and air—spacious rooms, white walls, high windows. Elegant living room with fireplace, formal dining room, cozy study. A honey of a kitchen with dark cabinets set off by white counters and white "tile" floor—a joy to work in. Adjoining family room whose sliding glass doors open to a wooden deck raised above a patio of white marble chips. Upstairs you'll find a master bedroom large enough to swing a cat—Siamese in this case—with dressing area and bath, half bath and three other bedrooms. Plus, of all things, an upstairs deck for sun bathing—or just for fun!

Offered, complete with all wall to wall carpeting and some drapes, and a move in tomorrow condition at just $89,500

THE HOUSE EVERYONE IS SEEKING —

One that is just a little different, at a not too difficult price. Cathedral ceiling living room with balcony at one end leading to three bedrooms and two baths; large dining room with handsome built-ins and full wall of glass opening to a screened porch. Add to this a bookshelved study with its own fireplace (mandarin red hood here), suitable for guest room use thanks to adjoining full bath. On lower levels, there is a family room with half bath, a large basement—now partially used for additional bedroom space, a covered patio (beneath the porch) and a two car garage.

All in excellent condition—both house and grounds—and within two block's walk to Littlebrook School.

VINTAGE YEARS

A home built like this is the same as drinking fine wine. The materials and workmanship go back to the old days of fine hardwood floors, plaster walls, slate roof. Time has made the shade trees very tall, the hedge high for privacy and all the pretty landscaping blossom with maturity. The large living room with fireplace opens to a sunny enclosed porch, large formal dining room with attached screened-in porch, nicely modernized kitchen and powder room. Two car garage. Offered at $55,000

CRAFT AND ECONOMY

A house you can afford with many "fun" amenities. The screened-in porch off the living room is wonderful for warm weather entertaining, or use the dining room for formal gatherings. A cozy family room with fireplace, very modern kitchen with self-cleaning oven; and a conveniently placed laundry area plus powder room. Second floor has nice master bedroom with private bath and 2 more bedrooms, suitable for the children, and ball bath. Save yourself on exterior maintenance because of aluminum siding and enjoy the excellent landscaping. Wall-to-wall carpeting in many rooms and on the stairs. A work bench in the full basement is a nice extra for the handy husband. Two car attached garage. An excellent chance for the young couple to get started in a nice way. $52,500

OVERLOOKING THE POND IN THE MEADOW

Recently we've been fortunate in having several interesting houses to offer in the enchanting village of Griggstown, and all but one have been snapped up. We are surprised still to be able to tell you about this crisp new Colonial on Canal Road. On nearly two acres, flanked by lovely farm estates, its center hall opens to a pair of living rooms, one with fireplace. The dining room has french doors to an elevated deck with a bucolic view of water, woods and meadow. There's a big country kitchen, laundry-mudroom and full bath. Upstairs, 4 bedrooms and 2 more baths. Centrally air conditioned. Basement and 2 car garage. A fine problem free investment at $65,000

WALK TO THE UNIVERSITY

For that matter it's an easy walk almost anywhere in town you want to go from this happily situated Berough house. Most versatile floor plan includes: on main living level, just a few steps up from the front door, living room with cathedral ceiling, dining el opening to deck, kitchen with double wall oven, 3 bedrooms and bath. On the garden level are 4th bedroom and bath, family room with fireplace, utility room and huge all-purpose room. Two car garage. Small grounds will leave time for golf and fishing. $58,500

ALL THE SPECIAL TOUCHES

Steeply pitched slate roof, softly weathered narrow clapboard siding, small paned windows, floors of glowing walnut stained oak and rough flagstone and two fireplaces, one of nearly walk-in proportions, really set this country salt box apart from others in its price range. To boot, the rooms are all of a particularly good size and include two living rooms, one quite formal, dining room, large pantry, kitchen, 4 bedrooms and 2½ baths. Most attractive. Walk to Montgomery Township schools, kindergarten through high. $66,000

NOW YOU SEE IT.

NOW YOU DON'T

The moment the leaves are on the trees, this close to town country house will disappear into the privacy of its wooded acre. Even now you have to look closely to see it behind its screen of trees; but worth seeing it is with its high ceilinged living room, dining room opening to walled terrace, family room floored in quarry tile, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths. Centrally air conditioned. Montgomery Township schools. See it soon or it really will be gone at $55,000

This house combines elegance with practicality. There is just too much in this fine home for us to adequately describe here. All we can say is if you seek the superlative in livability and quality along with the charm of yesteryear this house may be what you are looking for. There are 7 bedrooms, 4½ baths and five fireplaces. $150,000

Kind of special if this fits your pattern of living—no stairs to climb, yet enough bedrooms to accommodate the growing family. Fresh as a daisy with a new coat of paint inside and out. It has 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, panelled family room and a large secluded patio. $39,500

Bursting at the seams? We have a good substantial house for the big family. It has all you could wish for in location, convenience and background for happy living. The screened-in porch and central air conditioning for your comfort in the summer and cozy fireplace in family room for that warm feeling in winter. The 5 bedrooms are ample for the large family. $78,900

You can't heat a traditional Colonial for space, convenience and comfort. There is an excellent flow from its gracious foyer to the spacious rooms (Living room and family room both have fireplaces). There are 4 bedrooms—2 baths and 2 powder rooms. There is also a nice study to retreat to for quiet moments. Situated on a high lot in a fine location. $86,500

For gracious living at its best—exquisite from the exterior design to the professionally landscaped grounds with swimming pool and to the equally attractive interior. Features are so numerous we are not able to list them all. There are five bedrooms, 3 baths plus maids room and bath. Located on Independence Drive, one of Princeton's choice locations. $165,000
